ANGER AT CUTS TO BUS ROUTES

By Marion Brennan

BUS routes will be cut or reduced in Cannock Chase under plans that will leave people at risk of not being able to access health services.

It is also feared the changes will limit trips to leisure centres, theatres and museums and isolate people living in rural areas.

The cuts affect journeys across Cannock, Rugeley, and Hednesford, and will also curtail routes to Stafford, Burntwood, Brownhills, Featherstone, Essington and Wolverhampton.

This week, a community leader and health campaigners voiced their concerns at the plans.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson called on the county council to reverse its decision and provide more buses, not fewer. He said some of the changes did not make economic sense. "I will be appealing against cuts to those buses which are important to the communities they serve," said Councillor Adamson.

"This is being done to save money, and while it's true that there are some bus routes you cannot defend because of poor usage, these proposals go too far.

"Instead of cutting services, the authority should be looking at adding buses. There's a new bus route to the i54 from Hednesford but why not run it from Rugeley? Good public transport links are vital in a district like Cannock Chase where unemployment is high."

Priority

Councillor Muriel Davies, the authority's health leader, has challenged the county council in the past about cuts to public transport.

She said: "GP access should be a priority, especially given how heavily they are used by pensioners. Neither should we ignore the positive health effects of being able to access cultural events." The move has been prompted by a cut in subsidies by Staffordshire County Council, leading Arriva to review its services. The changes which will affect route numbers 2/2A, 823, 835, 33, 70, T2, 67, 68 and 23.

No formal public consultation has been held on the bus review, although county chiefs say they have carried out detailed data analysis, supported by passenger surveys, and held talks with operators and district council officers about the likely consequences.

A community impact assessment report conceded the cuts could affect access to 'leisure and cultural opportunities' but the county council argued it carried out regular reviews of bus services to check whether they were sustainable.

Bosses said that only two per cent of journeys would be affected and that changes were largely in the form of frequency of service.

The timetable changes will come into effect in September. Councillor Frank Allen, a member of the council's cabinet, said: "As people get older, they don't trust themselves with driving and buses become a lifeline to them, while people who live in the outer reaches of the district will be left stranded," he said.

IT'S THUMBS UP FOR STEPHEN AT 10,000FT

Daredevil – Stephen Sutton's mother Jane Sutton during her skydive that helped to raise £150,000 in memory of her son

STEPHEN Sutton's mother Jane skydived 10,000ft with more than 400 daredevils to fulfil a wish from her son's famous bucket list.

The 50-year-old helped break the Guinness World Record for the most people tandem jumping, while raising £150,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust.

The charity organised the event in memory of the inspirational teenager, who helped to raise £5 million for the charity before his death last May. Skydive for Stephen took place at Hibaldstow Airfield in Lincolnshire. Jane said: "I'm really grateful to the other people who registered to be part of this world record attempt."

Stephen set up a bucket list of 46 wishes, including skydiving and getting into the world record book 'somehow'. Jane, Stephen's brother Chris, 22, and grandmother Ann, 69, all took to the skies.

The tandem jumping record was originally held by Children's Cancer Recovery Foundation based in the United States, after 286 people skydived in Texas in September 2014.

A new record was achieved by the charity after 30 instructors jumped for 12 hours, strapped to thrill seeking fundraisers.

To make a donation, visit www.virginmoneygiving.com/team/SkydiveForStephen or send a text to STEPHEN to 70500 to donate £5 to support the skydivers.

COUNCIL

Views wanted on publicity methods

CANNOCK Chase Council is asking residents for their views on how the authority communicates with them.

The survey asks for opinions on the methods currently used by the council to share information with residents, covering everything from leaflets, posters, the council's website, and social media.

The survey can be completed online, or a printed version is available from the council's area offices in Cannock and Rugeley and libraries across the district. The survey will run until August 31.Visit www.cannockchasedc.gov.uk/communications

CHARITY

Lions in swim with duck race

RUGELEY and District Lions Club is holding its annual duck race on August 1 as part of Rugeley by the Sea.

Proceeds from the sale of tickets will support local and international causes.

Duck tickets, all individually named, can be bought for £1 from Three Wishes, Caketins and Dave's Fancy Dress, and Tesco. There is a separate race for corporate sponsors.

FUNDING

Volunteers fail to step up for clubs

HARDLY any volunteers have put themselves forward to take over youth clubs in Cannock formerly run by Staffordshire County Council.

It means that youth clubs and other services aimed at young people that have closed since the county council withdrew its funding are unlikely to be replaced. Now, moves are being made to encourage further bids.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said: "There is not a great history of people volunteering in Cannock and the county council were warned of this. Unfortunately my fears have been justified."

Branch members flying the flag

Members raise the standard

THE standards have been raised by the Cannock branch of the Light Infantry and Rifles Regimental Association.

Thanks to financial assistance from County Councillor Alison Spicer through the local community fund, the branch has been able to buy a new standard.

The Cannock branch formed in 1988 to support regimental veterans and families in times of need and to provide a social meeting point.

The light infantry was formed in 1968 when all the former county-named Regiments lost their county titles and became numbered Battalions and amalgamated in a major restructuring of the Armed Forces.

The amalgamated Regiments were The Somerset and Cornwall Light Infantry, Kings Own Yorkshire LI, Kings Shropshire LI and Durham LI. The history of these Regiments can be traced as far back as 1665.

In 2007 further reductions were made to the Armed Forces and all of the former Light Infantry Regiments along with their history were amalgamated with other like Regiments to form The Rifles.

At the annual Light Infantry and Rifles national reunion in Shrewsbury, the Cannock branch Standard was paraded for the first time and was blessed and dedicated at the drum head service.

The Standard will be paraded as and when required at Regimental events and at Regimental comrades' funerals. To join the Cannock branch or for further information call Patrick Warren on 01922 413489 or email bo.diddley@talktalk.net

Dentist is suspended over inadequate care

A DENTIST has been suspended for inadequate care and another has agreed to pay a £7,500 settlement in a dispute over 'sub-standard' work.

Dr Hari Hermann of Elite Dental Clinic at Kingston Court Shopping Arcade, Cannock, was suspended for a wide range of 'extensive' failings relating to an unnamed patient between May and December 2013.

And in a separate case, Dr Nirgis Majeed, of the Valley Centre Dental Practice in Hednesford, agreed an out-of-court settlement following a claim by patient Nicola Roden. In the case of Dr Hermann, a General Dental Council hearing suspended him for failings, which included carrying out treatment not necessary, as well as failing to keep proper records.

Nicola Roden

He had been previously warned for similar failings. A report from the General Dental Clinic's professional conduct committee addressing Dr Hermann said: "The committee is not satisfied that you fully appreciate the extent of the inappropriateness of the work you carried out."

Dr Hermann said: "I do not accept the General Dental Council's findings and will be taking time to consider my options."

In the case of Dr Majeed, Ms Roden said work to correct a veneer on her teeth exposed the pulp. The customer services representative from Hednesford said she suffered an infection and had to have a root canal. Following further work, she then experienced a rotting smell in her mouth and had to be put on antibiotics. When offered another root canal she turned to solicitors.

Dental Law Partnership secured the £7,500 settlement but Dr Majeed did not admit liability. Solicitor Jennie Hales for the firm said: "The sub-standard treatment caused infection, the need for root canal treatment in one of the teeth – itself carried out poorly – and the likely loss of that tooth over the next few years."

Ms Roden said: "The whole experience has been the worst of my life." In response Dr Majeed said: "I would like to make it clear I do not agree with the facts as conveyed by The Dental Law Partnership."

Snooker club needs hole load of work

Snooker club president Nick Lyons, from Rugeley, surveys the damage to the Heron Court building

A SNOOKER club says it is determined to stay put despite their venue needing urgent repair work.

Rugeley Snooker Club owns the under threat Heron Court in the town, which has been standing since 1851.

But the building is showing its age with the roof leaking and plastering coming away from the wall.

The building was purchased by the snooker club in the 1960s and has been placed on Save Britain's Heritage's Buildings at Risk register. Neil Gandy, press secretary for the club said: "The biggest problem for us is that the roof has burst, which has caused damage inside and we are trying to stop it leaking any further.

Blanks

"We do maintain the building but the roof would be prohibitively expensive to repair.

"We have applied for grants and spoken to the council but they have drawn blanks. We've got to be pragmatic and try to deal with it in a different way. We would love to stay here."

The club, previously known as Rugeley Billiards Club, has a history comparable to Heron Court with both dating back to the 19th century.

Most of the snooker club committee and trustees are volunteer members who also have day jobs in addition to their committee duties.

Donation by Amazon to boost pupils' IT learning

PUPILS at a Rugeley school had an assembly to remember when staff from Amazon in Rugeley stopped by with a donation of £5,000.

The donation for St James Primary in Longdon was made by members of Amazon's charity committee in Rugeley. It will be used to purchase new IT equipment for the pupils and staff to enhance e-learning experiences.

St James received the donation after sending through a 'wish list' of IT equipment to the Rugeley fulfilment centre where the site's charity committee decided they would like to help support the school.

The donation was bolstered with specialist IT advice provided by Amazon's Technical Support team who are based at the Wheelhouse Lane depot.

Amazon's general manager at the Rugeley site, Mark Hemming said: "The charity committee at our site nominated the school for support after finding out about plans to fully embed ICT into the curriculum and we're absolutely delighted to contribute to the ongoing development of pupils' learning with a donation of £5,000 towards IT equipment."

St. James Primary School headteacher, Claire Shaw said: "On behalf of the staff, pupils and parents at St James, I'd like to say a big thank you to the staff at Amazon in Rugeley for this amazing gesture. The donation will be welcomed with open arms and will really help propel our IT capabilities over the coming years."

Police advice after cat thefts spate

POLICE have issued advice to prevent vehicles being targeted after a spate of catalytic converter thefts.

Officers from Cannock Local Policing Unit are urging drivers of Mercedes Vito vans to be on their guard after at least six were hit by criminals in a matter of days.

Work vehicles are especially vulnerable to being targeted by thieves and drivers and businesses are encouraged to be wary.

Police advise they are stored in a locked, secured garage or compound.

They also say have a garage weld the converter in place to make it more difficult to steal and install good security lighting on your driveway or around your garage or yard.

Ramblers going to tackle 9-mile walk

Walk leader is Neil, 01543 270862.

Seven hurt as 4x4 and minibus in collision

A COLLISION between a 4x4 vehicle and a minibus in Hednesford in the early hours of Monday left one woman and six men injured.

West Midlands Ambulance Service received a 999 call to reports of the collision at the junction of Broadhurst Green Road and Penkridge Bank just after midnight. Five ambulances, a paramedic area support officer and a responder paramedic attended.

An ambulance service spokeswoman said: "When ambulance staff arrived on scene they found a 4x4 and a minibus which had left the road and ended up in a hedgerow. Both sustained extensive damage.

"The driver of the car, a woman, was assessed by crews and was found to have head, back and chest pain.

"She was immobilised with a neck collar and spinal board at taken to New Cross Hospital.

"The eight occupants of the minibus, all men, had self-extricated from the vehicle prior to our arrival.

"Thankfully no-one suffered life-threatening injuries."

On Friday, two men were taken to hospital following a crash in Huntington. It happened at 2.30pm in Broadhurst Green Road and involved a blue Skoda and a black Fiat Punto.

A man in his 20s suffered a head injury and pain to his back, chest and pelvis as well as a suspected fractured collar bone. A second man, in his 40s, sustained neck pain. Police closed the road from Pottal Pool while crews dealt with the casualties.

Deaf centre has store's support

A CANNOCK supermarket has named Walsall Deaf People's Centre as its charity for the year. The charity earned the most votes of customers at Sainsbury's Orbital Way store.

The Walsall Deaf People's Centre organises activities to improve the lives of Deaf people in Walsall and the surrounding areas.

To celebrate the announcement, a launch day will take place at the Cannock Store on July 31. Shoppers will get the chance to meet representatives from the charity and learn more about the work it does.

Walsall Deaf People's Centre manager Zana Collins, said: "We're thrilled to be chosen as the Sainsbury's Cannock Local Charity of Year."

Male voice choir to perform at church

THE Cannock Chase Orpheus Male Choir performs at St Peter's Church, Hednesford this weekend.

The concert, on Saturday, starts at 7.30pm. Admission is £6 and includes refreshments.

Lorry goes in wrong direction on M6 Toll

The white HGV spotted speeding on the M6 Toll

A 'HORRENDOUS' incident was avoided when police officers stopped a lorry that was seen travelling at high speed in the wrong direction on the M6 Toll.

The Central Motorway Policing Group was alerted to the white HGV being driven southbound on the northbound carriageway of the road at around 7.50pm on Sunday.

The vehicle had allegedly been seen speeding and performing U-turns on the carriageway and was stopped by officers near junction T4 at Weeford near Shenstone.

Once officers had stopped and recovered the vehicle, they arrested two men who were on board the HGV.

Watched

They were held in custody for questioning.

A police spokesman said that the men were not British.

Police using the Central Motorway Police Group Twitter feed posted: "The consequences of this could have been horrendous as we watched it on CCTV driving at high speed, witnesses please get in touch."

"Thank you to the public who called us."

The Driver and Vehicle Standards Agency is also investigating the incident by examining CCTV footage.

Town Deal campaign launched by councillors

LABOUR Councillors in Burntwood are demanding a new 'Town Deal' for Burntwood.

The aim would be to bring district and county councils together with the town council to create a joint plan for regeneration of the town, building on successes over recent years and addressing some of the ongoing, long-standing problems it faces. Councillor Sue Woodward, leader of the the opposition group on Lichfield District Council, said: "For too many years, Burntwood has been short-changed.

"Over recent years, the leadership at Lichfield District Council has taken a little bit more interest in the town's development but nothing has yet come from this.

"That is why Burntwood's Labour councillors are asking for a new Town Deal, such as those set up elsewhere in the county, which would commit the town, district and county councils to delivering real and tangible outcomes to boost jobs and training, leisure and tourism, arts and cultural initiatives and improve the local environment. We want to harness the fantastic community spirit here and build on recent successes and opportunities."

Real

However, there are also concerns about inadequate healthcare facilities, poor public transport links and, at the top of the list, the need for a new town centre.

Councillor Eric Drinkwater, Labour leader on Burntwood Town Council, said: "It is time that real, meaningful and unselfish discussions took place between all the key players – landowners, existing retailers, and the county, district and town councils. Talks have taken place before but broke down because one of the key players withdrew from the discussions.

"Now that the New Local Plan for Lichfield District has been approved, we need discussions that will build a town centre to attract new businesses and at the same time protect those who already operate in the five shopping areas of Burntwood.

"Burntwood residents have been crying out for many years for a proper town centre that befits an area of nearly 30,000 inhabitants. We need clothes shops, shoe shops, entertainment and the proper infrastructure that goes with it which includes decent regular bus services."

The Labour members of Lichfield District Council, including Diane Evans and Sharon Banevicius, are now writing to council leaders to urge them to set up a Town Deal.

Picture perfect display by club

Seeing double – majestic lionesses by Carla Signorini

ANIMALS in the wild, flowers in bloom, and beautiful landscapes are all on show at the Chasewater Country Park's Innovation Centre.

Lichfield Camera Club's summer exhibition is on until July 26. The exhibition is compiled of stunning photographs taken by members of the club, with Scotland's Forth Bridge in fog, and the street scene in Dubrovnik, Croatia, on show along with various nature shots.

Grace Mason, chair of the club, said: "There are around 100 shots in this exhibition, which we hold in July every year after the end of our season in June."

The exhibition has left a lasting impression on many visitors at the park so far.

Jane Lees, development officer at Chasewater, said: "We have people visit our exhibitions here every four weeks but there is always a very good response for the Lichfield Camera Club. This particular exhibition has been very well received.

The exhibition is on every day, from 9am until 6pm Monday to Friday and from 10am to 5pm Saturdays and Sundays. Admission is free. Visit lichfieldcameraclub.org

NEWS IN BRIEF

Opening date for rehab centre

A £200,000 bedsit for recovering addicts is to open in Cannock in September. Plans for Burton Addiction Centre to convert derelict 91-93 High Green into a 12-bed supported house were approved in February.

Builders started on the site in March and have transformed the three-storey crumbling building into a semi independent centre for adults who will have already completed 18 weeks of rehabilitation.

The former Bistro 95 next door will open as a tea room and will be run by service users.

Law firm in pink over cash raised

More than 20 members of staff from Ansons Solicitors, which has offices in Cannock and Lichfield, donned pink fairy costumes to take part in the event in memory of lost loved ones..

In total, more than 900 people completed the nine-mile night time stroll through the streets of Lichfield.

Jagdip Bains, an associate solicitor in Ansons dispute resolution team, said: "We are delighted that we have been able to raise over £800."

Camra names its pub of season

REAL ale lovers have named a The Bridge Inn, Hednesford has its pub of the season.

The pub, in Cannock Road, Hightown, was given the accolade by the Cannock Chase branch of Camra and will be presented with the award on Wednesday, July 22.

The pub, which recently held its first beer festival,was recognised for the quality of its beers, the atmosphere and service in the pub and its community focus.

MP at presentation of lifesaving equipment

MICHAEL Fabricant MP will attend the formal presentation of a defibrillator to a Burntwood church this weekend.

The machine, for community use, will be installed at Chasetown Methodist, Lanswood Avenue, on Saturday at 2pm. Parishioners began the project to have the equipment installed.

Burntwood Lions, who provided more than £1,600 for the purchase of the device and its cabinet, will make the presentation.

Council chairman

BURNTWOOD Town Council has a new chairman and deputy. Councillor Pamela Stokes, of Summerfield and All Saints ward, was named chairman. Her chosen charities are the Teenage Cancer Trust and St Giles Hospice. Deputy chairman is Boney Hay and Central ward Councillor Beth Fisher.

THE BEST OF PETER RHODES

JANE Peyton, elected as Britain's first "Beer Sommelier of the Year," says beer often goes better with food than wine but is sneered at by wine snobs. Maybe it is. But if you want a truly horrified hush to descend on a smart restaurant, try uttering these words: "A pint of cider, please."

WOMEN footballers, having proved themselves as valiant as the men, should surely be called lions rather than lionesses. After all, feminine terms such as actress, lady doctor, aviatrix and editrix are now regarded as patronising. But it seems I am a voice in the wilderness. The Times, no less, refers to our women's soccer team as "England Glory Girls." How charmingly 1930s.

THERE was a time when I would have raged against any plans to turn Sundays into just another working day. You don't have to be a churchgoer, or even vaguely religious, to believe that one day of the week should be slower, quieter and somehow special. But the latest Whitehall plans for extended shopping hours are just another chipping-away at an institution which is virtually dead already. So bring it on. Let's have 24/7 Sunday shopping. And how long will it before Sunday becomes a normal working day for everyone and our children will ask, as the dowager duchess asked in Downton Abbey: "What is a weekend?"

AS Dallas Campbell continues his trips into potholes in Britain Beneath Your Feet (BBC1) I was reminded of the intrepid potholer on Countryfile (BBC1) who assured us that few people suffer from claustrophobia when potholing. That, my friend, is because we claustrophobics keep well away from potholes. Call me windy but of all the ways a man can choose to die, being stuck by your shoulders 200ft below ground and hearing the water rising must be the worst.

MORE encounters with the B-word. A reader has a text book from his apprenticeship as a printing compositor. It tells us: "The Half title, or bastard title as it is sometimes termed, is always a right hand page and consists usually of the name or title of the book."

LITTLE blue leather sandals, short socks, red romper shorts and white blouse. Good to see, from Princess Charlotte's christening photographs, that Prince George is being raised just like any other little boy. Any other little boy of 1953, that is.

A MAN has been fined £220 and banned from keeping a pet after swallowing a live goldfish. The RSPCA alleged that the fish would have suffered distress for several minutes. Fair enough, but are the rich still enjoying live oysters?

Fans' delight at three days of music on Chase

By Rob Golledge, Laura Blyth and Mark Shipp

CANNOCK Chase provided the perfect backdrop for a three-day musical extravaganza at the weekend, with the depths of the forest coming alive to the sounds of Paloma Faith, Robert Plant and Tom Odell.

Flame-haired Paloma kicked off the annual Forest Live gigs to a sold-out audience of 5,000. Fans, both young and old, took picnics along to the gig, enjoying a spot of al fresco dining as the Friday evening sun went down.

Led Zeppelin frontman and Black Country hero Robert Plant brought his Sensational Space Shifters band to the beauty spot on Saturday to huge adulation from a home crowd.

His hour-long performance was peppered with Led Zep classics and his new 'gritty' and 'worldly' material.

This time the fans were distinctively older but nonetheless enthusiastic in seeing the rock god.

Pleased

It was the first time in seven years that the Chase had hosted three gigs, with Jessie J and the Modfather Paul Weller appearing last year.

Faith told her fans she was glad to be back in Staffordshire – having performed on the Chase in 2013 – and said she was pleased that for once it wasn't pouring down with rain.

She sang Picking Up the Pieces, Only Love Can Hurt Like This and her collaboration hit Changing with British drum and bass duo Sigma just a few weeks after performing on Glastonbury's Pyramid Stage.

Wolves vice-president Plant, aged 66, spoke fondly of being in Cannock, joking that the last time he was on the Chase he was 'asked to move on', which promoted laughter from the sea of rockers.

He explained how the folk circuit in Stourbridge in the 1960s inspired his career and how he had gone on a search for the origins of music.

While there were flashbacks to past glories such as Black Dog, the gig unsurprisingly was focussed on his new material.

Plant fan Sarah Chesteron, aged 54, from Rugeley, said: "I thought it was fantastic. I have seen Robert a couple of times and while I am a big Led Zeppelin fan, he has re-defined himself and I love his new work just as much."

Office clerk Iain Jones, 50, from Cannock, said: "I bought tickets as soon as I heard he was coming to the Chase.

"I am a massive fan and it was awesome to see him live. He is an idol and has not lost it one bit."

Last night it was the turn of Brit Award-winner Odell, who at 24 has hit the big time after being spotted by Lily Allen in 2012.

Last year, his soulful and haunting cover of The Beatles' Real Love was the track for the John Lewis Monty the Penguin Christmas advert.

On a chilly and grey night, the Grow Old with Me star did not disappoint as crowds swayed to songs from his debut album Long Way Down.

A firm feature of all performances is the scramble to the car park where fans waited for up to an hour to get away.

Forest Live is organised by the Forestry Commission to raise funds to improve the area's woodland.

Each year, Forest Live hosts a series of special concerts in seven forest venues throughout England.

Previous big name performers include Blondie, Erasure and Sugababes.

Scorpion Run no obstacle in gruelling fundraiser

RUNNERS are being urged to take the sting out of a gruelling obstacle course, by raising as much as they can for a children's charity.

Participants are urged to tackle the Scorpion Run at Lower Drayton, near Penkridge in aid of Caudwell Children. It starts at noon on Sunday, August 2.

The event, owned and managed by an experienced team of personal fitness instructors and ex-SAS soldiers, is designed to push participants to their limit in a punishing test of physical and mental strength. It features the 10K Emperor and 20K Deathstalker assault courses, comprising of 30 and 50 obstacles respectively.

Owner Carl Class, said: "Both the Emperor and Deathstalker courses involve carrying tyres, climbing over bales of hay, and crawling under cargo nets before even getting to the hardest part of the assault course."Other obstacles include monkey and step bars, log walks, stepping stones and a mud mile carrying a large log through bunkers and up hills."

Other tasks include a 5k run through the forest carrying a sandbag and 2k cross country run.

The organisers have offered an extra incentive with 20 per cent off entry. Simply enter the code 'Cwell20' at the online checkout before July 28. In addition, £5 from every entry will be donated to the charity.

Anyone raising more than £60 they will be given a running vest to wear on the day. Register at www.caudwell-children.com/scorpionrun

Cadets do High Sheriff proud

YOUNG police cadets got to meet the High Sheriff of Staffordshire after being asked to perform civic duties.

The cadets scheme, which has a unit in Cannock, was launched by Staffordshire's Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis.

They shone at an event for new High Sheriff Johnny Leavesley. Deputy PCC Sue Arnold joined cadets at the garden party near Alrewas.

She said: "It was fantastic to see the cadets perform their civic duty at the High Sheriff's event. They are a real credit to themselves and the communities they represent.

"The cadet scheme is all about giving advantages to young people through allowing them to gain life skills such as responsibility and discipline."

Visitors able to swan around at Wildlife HQ

A SWAN day is being held at Staffordshire Wildlife Trust's headquarters.

The event at the Wolseley Centre, Wolseley Bridge, between Stafford and Rugeley, is on July 19 from 10am to 4pm. It will also involve a walk through the grounds.

Guidance for helping out visually impaired

TRAINING is on offer for people wishing to act as guides for the visually impaired.

The Burntwood In-Sight Group is running the training session on Saturday, August 1, at Chasetown Methodist Church, Lawnswood Avenue, from 10am to 1pm. Registration can be taken from 9.30am.

The interactive session follows a successful training day last November. Training is free but donations are welcome for the Guide Dogs charity.

The session is for 18s and over. Those wishing to attend should call Carol Trigg on 01543 670822.

For anyone younger, names can be passed onto Guide Dogs for a separate training session.

My Guide is a programme run by Guide Dogs and aims to help thousands of blind and partially sighted people across the UK and Northern Ireland get out and about on their terms.

The initial session of Level 1 training is aimed at helping people assist their family and friends. There will then be the option of Level 2 training to become a trained My Guide volunteer.

These are then matched with a blind or partially sighted person. Together, they create a bespoke activity plan which lasts between an agreed time of six weeks to six months.

Burntwood In-Sight Group is a local self-help group for the visually impaired which meets on the first Saturday afternoon of the month at Chasetown Methodist Church.

Children shine during Wakes

More than 200 people attended the show at Chasetown FC as part of this year's Wakes Festival – taking the form of several happenings over the course of June and July.

The contest was organised by Pastor Rod Lewis on behalf of Burntwood Churches United in partnership with Burntwood Town Council. It consisted of song and dance spots by children from Ridgeway Primary and Chase Terrace Technology College as well as Burntwood Dance Troupe.

Carpet store will open at retail park

Bosses behind Tapi, chose the location on Longford Island at the Linkway Retail Park, as one of its first stores in the UK.

Keyboard couple to perform at club

Stephanie Trick and Paolo Alderighi

A HUSBAND and wife duo who play one piano will be performing at Chase Golf Club on Saturday, July 25.

Stephanie Trick and Paolo Alderighi are visiting this country from Missouri and are playing in just a handful of venues.

The show has been organised by Doug Smith, who first became aware of Stephanie's stride and boogie woogie piano style a couple of years ago.

Classically trained, Stephanie, who is from America, has played at venues all over the world in both the classical and jazz genres. After playing with Italian jazz pianist Paolo, they found they had a musical chemistry together, and subsequently got married.

Doug said: "I vowed that if they ever came to the UK I would go to see them. Sure enough I managed to see them in Birmingham last year.

Luck

"I got to talk with them and asked if they would consider coming to Staffordshire if they came back to the UK.

"I could not believe my luck when I had an email asking if I would like them to visit. The cost is just £35 per ticket – it is not for any charity. There will be no raffle, it is not for profit – I am funding it myself.

"I just want to share the opportunity to see this incredible couple perform.

"I have about 20 tickets left for the evening and am offering them on a first come, first served, basis.

Brothers are locked up over revenge assault

TWO brothers who launched a revenge attack on a man following the death of their father have each been locked up for four years.

Adam and Leon Leighton believed Mark Hawkins bore some responsibility for the drugs-linked death of Craig Leighton, Stafford Crown Court heard.

The brothers chased Mr Hawkins until he tripped over and then gave him a beating which left him with a broken arm and a head injury. Mr Roger Brown, prosecuting, said Mr Leighton's death had been fully investigated at an inquest and no charges had been brought against anyone.

Adam Leighton

Leon Leighton

The brothers, both of Gorse Drive, Huntington, each pleaded guilty to inflicting grievous bodily harm with intent on August 6, last year.

Punch

Mr Brown said that offence involved the defendant getting out of a car in Cannock and trying to punch Mr Hawkins. When someone asked him what it was all about he replied: "That was Craig Leighton's son. He thinks I killed Craig."

A week later, Mr Hawkins was in Church Street, Chadsmoor, when he became aware of someone running behind him. It was 19-year-old Adam Leighton, who said: "You killed my fing dad."

He tried to throw a punch, but missed and ended up on the floor and his 23-year-old brother helped him up while Mr Hawkins ran off. He tripped over in Crab Lane, rolling into a ball to protect himself, but the brothers began attacking him. People came out of a block of nearby flats and the brothers fled.

Mr Mark Jones, for Leon, said emotions had been running high over the loss of their father.

Miss Sarah Allen, for Adam, said: "Revenge is not a mitigating factor. However he was so consumed with fury, anger and grief over his father, he wasn't able to control himself."

Food lovers get in the party mood

Great British Bake Off finalist Luis Troyano launches his new book at the Great British Food Festival

THOUSANDS of food lovers flocked to Shugborough to sample treats as part of a traditional British summer party.

The Great British Food Festival proved the perfect recipe for a fun family day out at the weekend, with around 10,000 visitors enjoying the event. It was hosted by the historic Staffordshire estate for the third year running and the grounds were packed with around 80 local and Best of British national producers selling fudge, cheese, cakes, jams, wine, beer, breads and meats.

Stalls served a variety of hot food, real ale and wine. The live entertainment was a hit with visitors and youngsters were kept entertained with a fun fair, cookery lessons and craft activities.

Budding cooking stars were able to watch expert chef demonstrations from Great British Bake Off finalists Luis Troyano and Masterchef's Luke Owen. Event director Daniel Maycock said: "The event was a great success, there was a great crowd and brilliant atmosphere."

On the back of the event's success, organisers are hoping to extend it across three days in 2016.

The Great British Food Festival event is taking place at six historic houses and venues across the Midlands this summer. Visit www.greatbritishfoodfestival.com

NEWS IN BRIEF

Art on show after passion rekindled

AN artist who regained his interest following the death of his mother is showing his work at Cannock Library.

Locally-born Ian Forrester has been drawing and sketching since a young age, a passion he shared with his mother. He moved away in the 1980s, but returned a few years ago to care for his mother as she fought cancer.

After she died, the discovery of pastels, watercolours and acrylics among her belongings rekindled his interest.

Working party looking for help

A WORK party will gather in Rugeley this weekend to tidy up the canalside area.

They will gather at Leathermill Lane, Rugeley, from 10am to noon on Saturday. Tasks include covering graffiti on the railway bridges, repainting the access point fencing and a bench, litter picking and removing ground cover around Leathermill Lane Bridge to tidy up the area.

Drinks, biscuits and cake will be provided. No experience is needed but participants are asked to wear stout shoes and old clothes.

Two town pubs sold at auction

TWO Rugeley pubs have been sold at a property auction in Birmingham.

The Hope & Anchor, Redbrook Lane, Brereton, went for £170,000 and The Swan Inn, Rugeley Road, Armitage, sold for £110,000.

The CPBigwood auction was held in the Holte Suite at Aston Villa FC.

The auction achieved a record £14.2 million, including prior sales and post event transactions. CPBigwood's previous record auction took place in February 2014,raising just over £13m.

Church grounds to host village garden party

PARISHIONERS in Hatherton can enjoy a garden party which will be hosted in the grounds of the village church next month.

A barbecue and a raffle will be available at St Saviour's Church from 1pm on Thursday, August 8.

Entertainment will be provided by the Chase Choral Society Mixed Voice Choir.

Tickets are £6, and available from Kate on 01922 412194 or any church member.

Bike owner sought

POLICE are trying to trace the owner of a bicycle found in Cannock town centre.

The unsecured bike was recovered near the clock tower at 12.15pm on June 29. It is a cream Apollo 300 bike with a cream seat and a commuter sticker on the frame. Call 101.

IN MY VIEW
with Mark Andrews

Our flag is all about celebrating industries

THERE are a lot of things about The Beatles' song Penny Lane which I find offensive. The turgid, sentimental lyrics. The dreary, depressing tune. The slack-jawed, disbelief which inevitably follows the confession that I don't actually like The Beatles.

Look, they're just a pop group, like any other, and I don't like them, OK?

However, no reasonable person would ever dream of criticising the song because it celebrates a street which was named after a slave trader. The link is just too tenuous.

Which brings us to Patrick Vernon, an anti-racism campaigner who for the most bizarre of reasons, has taken offence at the Black Country flag.

Mr Vernon, who grew up in Wolverhampton before moving to the Big Smoke, finds the image of a chain in the Black Country flag "offensive", saying it has connotations with the slave trade.

Oh, gerrover yerself, Mr Vernon, yo'm a very saft mon.

The Black Country flag has nothing to do with slavery, it is about celebrating the industries which put this region at the forefront of the Industrial Revolution.

Mr Vernon says the Black Country glosses over its role in the slave trade. But slavery in Britain ended in 1807, and it seems absurd that Mr Vernon expects us to feel apologetic for the fact that in another century people in other countries used our chain for nefarious purposes.

Perhaps Mr Vernon has been in London for too long.

Down in the great metropolis, they're obsessed with diversity and multiculturalism, emphasising what makes us different,

But in the Black Country, there is no diversity, and only one culture. Black, white, rich or poor, it doh matter, because under the skin we'm all Black Country – we're all links in the Black Country chain, and that bond is far stronger than anything that might divide us.

Hope yo 'ad a bostin' Black Country Day.

A FEW weeks ago, I wrote about the "knock-off early" culture which seems to affect many of our retailers, where staff take it upon themselves to shut their doors several minutes before closing time to avoid any risk that some of them might have to work a few minutes over.

Well here's a turn-up for the books.

On Monday, having just returned from a weekend away, it was more in hope than expectation that I battled the rush-hour traffic to get to my local tyre centre before closing time.

I didn't seriously expect anybody to help, but one of the fitters volunteered to work over. Arron Page, of Kingswinford Tyres, yo'm a proper Black Country bloke.

Melody when she appeared on The Apprentice

Melody speaking at the New European Awards

Melody Hossaini on a visit to City College, Plymouth

How Melody tuned into career success

She may have been fired from The Apprentice but this social entrepreneur has won a top award, writes Marion Brennan

WHEN Melody Hossaini was asked what job title she wanted to pop up on screen under her name when she appeared on the 2011 series of The Apprentice, she replied 'social entrepreneur'.

"The producer laughed," she recalls.But the former Great Wyrley High School student insisted on the tagline, becoming the show's first – and only – social entrepreneur, the title given to people who apply commercial strategies to make social improvements.

She was knocked out just before the final but not before making a big impact. Bold, confident and good-looking, she became famous for her inspirational quote 'Don't tell me the sky's the limit when there are footprints on the moon' – which one fan had tattooed on his arm.

Responsible

Lord Sugar branded her 'ruthless' and 'a tiger' so it was perhaps odd that she did not channel her undoubted business acumen into more obvious money-spinning schemes.

But she says: "Social enterprises are doing well. New statistics have just been published that show they are now doing better than the commercial business model, contributing a lot to the economy and creating many jobs for people.

"The world is moving that way, we are being more responsible consumers. We like to buy in a way that helps someone and there are lots of examples of little pockets of success."

Melody, now 30, is in the news again after being named Europe's Most Influential Woman of 2015 at a ceremony in Brussels.

The awards, under the patronage of the European Parliament, recognise the contributions of Europeans with a migrant background. Meeting the qualifying criteria was no problem after being born in war-torn Iran and escaping with her family to Sweden before arriving in South Staffordshire at the age of 13 with her mother and sister.

Melody goes into schools and colleges to help prepare students for the business world

It was while sitting at her bedroom desk at the family's Station Road home that she spied an advert in Just 17 magazine for young people wanted as community ambassadors.

It led to 11 years of volunteering, including two and a half years serving on the Youth Parliament where she ran climate change campaigns and went to 10 Downing Street to speak to Tony Blair about the war in Iraq.

She says: "We were shaking things up, it wasn't just me. It was an incredible time. I'm still friends with these people."

She went on to set up the successful social enterprise, InspirEngage International, in 2009 with the aim of training people to succeed by giving back.

She goes into schools and colleges, including Great Wyrley High, to help prepare students for the world of business and work, trains vulnerable women to become economically active through social enterprise and guides corporations to better engage with their local communities.

She said: "This award means a lot to me because of what it represents. So much negative stuff is said about immigrants and asylum seekers, and I was both of those things. The public thinks of them as anonymous people, but they are people like me who have worked hard to give back to their communities. I want to shift people's mindsets about immigrants.

"I'd like them to think that perhaps they shouldn't take a blanket approach.

"Being an immigrant never leaves you, and that's not to say that I don't feel I belong here. I'm married now with a nine-month-old son and a home in Warwickshire. I'm very much settled, but being an immigrant is so much a part of my make-up."

The law graduate, who speaks five languages, describes herself as an 'accidental entrepreneur' who avoided business studies at school.

She entered the business arena only as a means of making a living out of her real interest, 'making a difference'.

Her passion for her work has increased since the birth of her son Kian, although she is learning the art of balance, she says.

"I work from home a lot so I can spend as much time as possible with him. I cook and put Kian to bed.

Judge

"We find a way because I love my job and I think it will help my son by immersing him in the world I work in. I can't wait for his life to be enriched by the job I do. I'll take him with me as soon as he can walk."

She and businessman Claude Littner, who is taking over from Nick Hewer as one of Lord Sugar's screen sidekicks, were recently judges on a social enterprise challenge, she says.

"They are filming the next series at the moment. He will be a fitting successor to Nick. Despite his screen reputation, he is kind and friendly, a wonderful spirit."

The keen blogger, who regularly reports on the programme for a national newspaper, is looking forward to its return.

She looks back on her time on The Apprentice as a valuable experience and, no, she doesn't cringe when she is reminded of the infamous 'footsteps' quote which she suggests was 'overused' on the show.

She says: "At that point all those years ago that saying inspired me, and you take inspiration where you find it."

Jack bounces into history books again

A MULTIPLE pogo record-holder has hopped into the history books yet again. Jack Sexty, from Penkridge, recorded the most consecutive bounces on a pogo stick at a world championship competition in America.

The 25-year-old, known as Mr Pogo, recorded 88,047 bounces non-stop in 10 hours and 21 minutes at the 2015 grand finals of Pogopalooza – the annual extreme pogo world championships in Philadelphia.

Dubbed battle of the bounce, Jack took on current world champion Casie Merza and previous record-holder James Roumeliotis. He was also raising money for Alzheimer's Research UK in honour of family member living with dementia.

All three surpassed the previous record of 75,005, set by Casie the month prior, but she bowed out with fatigue after 75,281 bounces, while James pulled out on 86,757.

Jack has already earned a place in the Guinness World Records for the longest distance pogoed in 24 hours and fastest marathon on a pogo stick. And his exploits have raised more than £1,000 for Alzheimer's Research UK.

Quarry firm boss fined over forged certificates

A QUARRY company boss whose firm fraudulently claimed Government grants, benefitting from £1,000, and forged test certificates has been handed a £70,000 court bill.

By Lisa O'Brien

WCL Ltd, which has a quarry at Muckley Corner and a head office in Burntwood, used £272,000 from the Government-sponsored charity Waste and Resources Action Programme to buy equipment using bogus invoices.

The company also deceived South Staffordshire Water and civil contractors Fitzgerald with forged test certificates for recycled aggregates, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Director Simon Winner, aged 43, of Four Oaks Road, Sutton Coldfield, admitted three fraud charges. He was fined £20,000 with costs of £50,000. A £1,000 confiscation order was made under the Proceeds of Crime Act.

Mr Gordon Aspden, prosecuting, said WRAP awarded grants for equipment already purchased, but WCL broke the rules by submitting false invoices for equipment not yet purchased. It did use the grants, a total of £272,500, to buy equipment.

Forged test certificates were discovered after WCL supplied recycled aggregates to Fitzgerald, who were repairing a section of the A460 at Featherstone.

In March 2012, samples from the road programme were taken and failed tests.

The test certificates provided by WCL, supposedly carried out by independent firm ESG, were examined and found to be false. In September 2011, South Staffordshire Water were also supplied with forged test certificates for aggregate worth more than £18,000.

Mr Graham Brodie QC, mitigating, said Winner had worked his way up from labouring jobs to running a profitable company. The commercial benefit to WCL over WRAP's grants had been around £1,000.

Green belt not answer on housing

DAVID Orr from the National Housing Federation suggested (Chronicle letters June 18) that the government must free up more land for houses to be built.

This is simply a plea to allow building in the green belt. We know that land is needed for homes but using up valuable green belt land is not the answer.

In Pye Green road the council has approved hundreds of new houses on green fields but have also demanded that half of the land is kept as green space.

Why, when the the site is immediately next to the Chase? Cornish fishing villages and Georgian towns like Bath are built to a higher density than we are now dictating to builders and yet they are very desirable places to live.

We must stop wasting land or else the green belt will not survive. Planners need to change their guidance to developers.

District's residents deserve the best

IT'S a pity Councillor Adamson (letter, June 26), wasn't at the CCG AGM in July because he would have learned, if he didn't already know, the details of the group's financial position.

Contrary to what he says, the CCG did manage its 2014/15 finances within the figures agreed with NHS England and the causes of the previous historical deficits have been well publicised.

I suspect he also knows that most of the deficit arises from extra spending on the treatment of people within the district. But at the end of the day, deficits have to be repaid because, however unpalatable, those are the rules and again I trust he knows that even if the Government had changed in May, it's very unlikely these rules would have changed.

For most residents of this community, the two organisations that most impact on their lives are the district council and the CCG and the councillor is right to say they deserve the best – from both. In my experience a lot of people are working extremely hard in both the CCG and the council to deliver the best possible services for this community and the councillor's generalised, simplistic bluster demeans the role of leader and the organisation he professes to lead.

To use his words, it is simply not good enough.

Only positive words to say about surgery

I AM registered at Rawnsley Surgery, where patients are supposedly being at risk of harm. I found the contents of the newspaper report universally negative and seemed to portray the surgery as one of the worst in the country.

It appears to me as though whoever wrote the article took the CQC report, and deliberately nitpicked all the negative viewpoints, while leaving out the positives.

I have been registered at Rawnsley Surgery for more than six years, and I can only commend the duty of care they have given to both myself, and my family. The staff there have always been caring, attentive and most importantly, responsible. But don't just take my word for it. I know many locals in Rawnsley that are registered there, and they can only offer positive words for it. In fact, I find it quite interesting how the article failed to gain testimonies from supposed patients.

Backbone of capital

C FAULKNER (July 2) asks how can we spend more than we earn? In theory we can't. But try telling that to the Bank of England, set up in 1694 with the intention of creating a permanent national debt. That debt, now at £1.5 trillion, is the backbone of capital. The Tories are demanding austerity upon the working class, but plan to burden the taxpayer with another £150bn with Trident and HS2. C Faulkner with their clear grasp of economics, must surely be opposed to further debt as a result of such schemes?

Kevin Wilcox, Burntwood

Corporate greed led to deficit

I REFER to C Faulkner July 2, asking me to explain and enlighten people on how we can reduce government borrowing by ending cuts to the most vulnerable.

Government borrowing is £1.55 trillion and the debt was not caused by ordinary people spending more than they earn. It was caused by the banks and corporate greed, and it is unfair to expect the weakest to pay for the failure of uncontrolled capitalism.

Not only does austerity stifle demand, it reduces tax receipts and makes it harder for the government to close the gap on the deficit – resulting in more government borrowing.

The only fair way to reduce the deficit is to make those with the most pay their fair share.

Tax avoidance is also causing the government to lose billions in revenue, pushing the less well off into poverty through no fault of their own.

Safety of cyclists a major problem

I WOULD like to reply to H Greenway of Cannock's letter of July 2. My husband's grandmother, as an elderly lady, was knocked down by a cyclist on the pavement and never left her home alone again as confidence in her personal safety was destroyed.

My father-in-law was hit by one as he stepped out of his car about 10 years ago which left him with a knee injury and is now pretty much disabled. I myself am almost deaf in my left ear and several times have been surprised by cyclists whizzing past me as I just don't hear them coming.

I am not a fist shaker and recognise that cyclist safety is a major problem on our roads. But I would like to know some statistics regarding this subject before we all start seeing cyclists on pavements as in any way a misdemeanour.

Shouldn't have to move for a better education

I WOULD like to thank the feedback from 'Proud parent' – Letters, July 2 – and to echo their remarks as hard work and diligence from all concerned is essential for their child to reach their full potential.

My reference was a reply to a 26 per cent failure rate in South Staffordshire. My own experience came decades ago when our children left primary for secondary. It has highlighted a similar failure rate on the core subjects today.

For any school under-achieving at a rate of almost two years behind others, children are disadvantaged. But you shouldn't have to commute or move for a better education.

Pressing on with title goal

British bench press champion Lee Smith, of Rugeley, who came second in the world single lift championships

A RUGELEY man is among the elite of the weightlifting world after competition success.

Lee Smith, the current British bench press champion, came second in the world single lift competition in Telford.

The 42-year-old managed to bench press 175kg on the day - nearly double his 15 stone body weight.

Lee, who trains at Future Bodies Gym in Rugeley, said: "I was very happy with my placing as my goal was to come in the top three in the world. I'm a little disappointed in what I lifted though as I have lifted a lot more in previous competitions."

Lee, a drayman on weekdays and part-time at weekends, has set himself a goal of becoming world champion.

He has already won the British championship five times, in three different weight categories, the West Midlands championship more than 20 times and is the current holder of both titles.

"All the goals that I have set myself before I have managed to achieve, I am on track to do it."

COUNCILLORS were this week set to decide on plans for an extension to a Norton Canes burial site.

Parish councillors lodged a bid for a new cemetery next to the current graveyard at St James' Church.

Planners on Cannock Chase District were debating the proposals following a site visit yesterday (Wednesday).

The plan was lodged in response to villagers' concerns that the existing cemetery is close to capacity and comes after years of trying to find an alternative site by the parish council.

The extension would be to the north of the church graveyard and provide burial space for at least 50 years.

Relatives

"Norton Canes is a close-knit community. Many families, including mine, have lived here for generations and many of us have relatives and friends buried at this site and feel a strong desire to be buried alongside them.

"The parish council believes that as long as there is land available next to the existing graveyard and the public support for it we should be pursuing this course of action."

He said villagers had been fully notified of the development – and had shown huge support for the idea.

"It is clear that people from Norton Canes want to be buried here alongside their friends and families," he said.

Among the objections were loss of privacy, impact on wildlife and fears of further expansion in future. However, the plan was earmarked for approval.

A report said: "The development caters for the long-term needs of the Norton Canes area for a cemetery that will have sufficient capacity for the considerable future."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Brian Stanley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done.

We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service Wolverhampton and the surrounding area and Brian is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Brian a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Couple lodge bid for school after closure

A COUPLE were so devastated when their son's village school closed that they ended up buying it.

Vernon Lodge School, in Stretton, closed without warning and liquidators sent in. But with 20 minutes to go before the sale deadline, and no buyers in the frame, Clare and Mark Wyatt stepped in.

"It's not something I ever envisaged us doing, owning a school, but now it's happened, it's exciting and I feel very positive about its success," said Clare.

In its heyday, the fee-paying Vernon Lodge School was one of the best preparatory schools in the country. In 2003 the Sunday Times ranked it 15th in the UK.

But at 3pm on February 26 this year the school, which took pupils up to the age of 11, was suddenly closed and parents called to pick up their children.

Clare and Mark Wyatt with their six-year-old son Jack at Stretton Lodge

Worried

Mrs Wyatt said: "The closure came completely out of the blue. Parents had been worried about the numbers being low but we'd been reassured that everything was fine.

"It was upsetting, but we thought somebody was bound to step in and keep it going. Although it was struggling, it was very popular, especially the nursery. We thought 'it can't just end like this'."

After a few weeks, Mr Wyatt called to find out what interest there had been. He was told there had been none and that the administrators were about to go into the school to start selling off the furniture and other assets.

Mrs Wyatt, aged 38, said: "The liquidators told us there were four hours left for someone to take over, the assets were being sold the next day. We started making phone calls. Mark spoke with the agents and the owner, Piers Monkton, who was interested in the possibility of us taking over the lease.

"At the same time, I was desperately trying to get hold of Lesley Smith, the former nursery manager.

"Lesley was absolutely key to our decision. We would only take it further if she was definitely on board.

"Luckily, with just 20 minutes to go to the deadline, she said she'd love to come back and re-open the nursery.

"Before we knew what was happening Mark had purchased the assets and we owned a school, all for £7,000."

The couple, from Milford, Stafford, set about revamping the buildings, spending almost £30,000 on the former Victorian schoolhouse, a small community hall and several temporary classrooms.

Mr Wyatt, a 40-year-old builder who runs Soden Associates, set about the transformation with the help of friends in the industry. Parents and former staff also lent their support.

The finished project has been renamed Stretton Lodge Day Nursery and Preschool, which will take in children up to five. It will be relaunched in September, hopefully with a 30-strong roll call. But at the age of six, the Wyatts' own son Jack is to old to enrol.

Crowds enjoy church's medieval fun

Back in time – St Luke's Church in Cannock staged a wide variety of activities at its Medieval Fayre

HUNDREDS of people flocked to St Luke's Church in Cannock on Saturday to enjoy its Medieval Fayre – the climax of the St Luke 900 Festival.

Cannock Chase District Council chairman Maureen Freeman enjoyed the many activities at the event and drew the winning tickets in the grand raffle.

The Cannock and District branch of Soroptimist International raised £83 on their scarves stall.

During the event, the large crowd were entertained by The Thegns of Mercia, and Anglo-Saxon Living History Group and Svartland, who demonstrated the Viking art of warfare with their 'Shield Wall', and a cycle of four Medieval Mystery Plays featuring local drama groups. Children were entertained by a Medieval Puppet Show and Medieval Stilt Walkers and Dragon.

Dancers and folk singers provided a variety of traditional English entertainment including the Uttoxeter Morris Dancers and St Luke's School Maypole Dancers.

The many stalls and games helped to raise more than £6,000 which exceed organisers' expectations.

Pub visit after jail bungle

A PRISONER freed by mistake handed himself in after spending the day swigging back pints in a pub.

Lewis Harwood, from Rugeley, was due to be kept on remand at privately run HMP Birmingham, in Winson Green.

G4S, which runs the prison, says the error happened after an out-of-hours fax from the courts was discovered too late.

Reports say the 31-year-old, believed to have been serving time for motoring offences, went to a nearby pub after his release on June 29.

He had been drinking in the Soho Foundry Tavern pub, near Smethwick, while prison officials began their search after realising their mistake.

Later that day Harwood handed himself in at the gates of the prison.

Director for HMP Birmingham Pete Small said: "The court's decision to keep this prisoner on remand was communicated to the prison by fax out of office hours late on the evening of June 26.

"By the time the fax was uncovered, the prisoner had been released on the following Monday morning.

"We immediately alerted the police and Ministry of Justice to the release in error and he was returned to custody soon after.

"We are working with partners in the court system to look at the way important decisions about offenders

Stephen's mother opens new fire station

Jane Sutton is given a fireman's lift as she opens the new Chase Terrace Community Fire Station

THE mother of courageous cancer fundraiser Stephen Sutton joined firefighters to officially open the new £1.7million Chase Terrace fire station.

Jane Sutton unveiled a plaque and was given a tour of the Rugeley Road facility – almost 15 months after her son died of cancer at the age of 19.

Her visit came ahead of a charity skydive she undertook with other family members in aid of Teenage Cancer Trust.

Her son started fundraising for the trust before he died. The fundraising total now stands at £5million.

Mrs Sutton said: "It's been lovely to be the guest of honour and it's been rather special for me as this new station is at the heart of the local community. I think its fantastic, this building is lovely not just for the fire service but for the local community because it helps bring together.

"I'm sure Stephen if he was here would have thought it was brilliant."

The modern Chase Terrace Fire Station replaced the old base on Rugeley Road, which bosses said had become outdated. It is located near Stephen's former school, Chase Terrace Technology College.

The station has the latest computer system to ensure crews can attend 999 calls as quickly as possible.

It also offers up-to-date training facilities, which include a smoke house and a dedicated bay to help crews practise how they deal with road accidents.

Station manager Tim Hollingsworth said: "The impact the new station has made has been fantastic.

"It's been brilliant to see the community use it and has done a lot to help provide close knit links with the community and the fire crew."

He added: "It's great to have Jane here. It was the fire crew's suggestion to have Jane here because of her local links and the inspirational figure she is."

New club president is inducted

Lichfield Rotary Club

THE new president of the Rotary Club of Lichfield, David Mayes, was inducted on Thursday, July 2, at the weekly meeting at Darnford Moors Golf Club.

David has lived in Lichfield for almost 40 years and is a former headteacher of comprehensive schools in Birmingham for more than 20 years, having been awarded an OBE for services to education just prior to his retirement in 1994.

He then served for some years as a trustee of Lichfield Citizens Advice Bureau and was vice-chairman of governors of King Edward VI School for some 12 years.

He is currently secretary of Lichfield Civic Society.

In his introductory speech he congratulated the retiring president, David Kershaw on the excellent work of the last year which saw an increase in funds raised for charities to over £10,000 annually.

The new president emphasised that while continuing the club's support for local charities such as Midlands Freewheelers (blood bikers), St Giles and Donna Louise hospices, he wishes to concentrate on helping youth, particularly on a local level.

The club meets every Thursday at 12.30pm and currently has 32 members and a number of associate and honorary members.

New members who wish to give something back in service to their community, while gaining from companionship, are always welcome and should contact Rotarian John Cole on 01889 562406.

Lions roar into year with new president

Beverley Stanyer hands over to new president Brian Ward

Cannock Lions Club

JULY 1 heralds the start of the Lionistic Year, and Cannock Lions start the year with a new president.

Outgoing president Beverley Stanyer handed over responsibility for leading the club to Brian Ward.

At the club's monthly meeting, held at the Roman Way Hotel, club members presented Beverley with a Radley watch and a mug as a token of their appreciation.

Beverley thanked the club for all their efforts over the year and said it had been both an honour and a pleasure to serve.

Taking over the mantle, Brian said it was an honour to be elected and looked forward to building on the club's continued success. At the previous meeting, new member Alan Preece was inducted into the club.

He is a welcome addition as the last male member to join was 2013. The lady members are still in the majority so there is always room for more men to join.

Cannock Lions meet on the first Wednesday of every month at the Roman Way Hotel. Contact membership chairman Mark Wyton on 0845 3334967.

Big Cuppa raises hospice cash

Hednesford 'A' TWG

AT the June meeting, members raised more than £100 for Katharine House Hospice supporting their Big Cuppa.

The money was raised by holding a bottle stall, sales table, guess the weight of the cake – made by Shirley – and having a cream tea.

Doreen's granddaughter ran the 5km Race for Life for Cancer Research and many guild members sponsored her and raised in excess of £50.

At the next meeting the ladies will welcome Eric Newton for a musical talk entitled The Buskerman. The Luncheon Club was held at The Hedgeford Lodge (Wetherspoons) in Hednesford. The next will be held at The Lock House in Great Haywood.

Guild meetings are held on the second Monday of each month at 2pm at St Peter's Church Hall. Newcomers always welcome. Details from Doreen on 01543 877987.

Star quality in greatest show in Brum

Barnum, Birmingham Hippodrome

WHAT an honour to be at the Birmingham Hippodrome on the night when Mr Song and Dance himself, Brian Conley, celebrated his 600th performance. It takes a lot to stop the star in his tracks, but an entire standing ovation, not to mention an elaborate cake on stage did the trick.

In his own inevitable style in the role as the Greatest Showman on Earth, Brian invites you to 'Come Follow the Band' until August 1 in Cameron Mackintosh's summer showstopper, Barnum. The circus has come to town with this spectacle complete with high flying feats, amazing acrobatics and stunning juggling skills.

Although the storyline depicts Phineas T Barnum's rise to fame until he eventually teams up with fellow entrepreneur, Bailey, to create Barnum and Bailey's Circus – the Greatest Show on Earth – it is also the love story between himself and his long-suffering wife, Chairy. Linzi Hateley offers a wonderfully warm performance in the role of Chairy with superb vocals and heart-felt drama.

Charisma seems just too inadequate a word to describe Brian Conley as Barnum but believe me he has it in bundles. When he walked the high-wire the audience was brought to its feet! Simply unmissable.

Alison Norton

Yes, Miss M the diva still divine

Bette Midler, Barclaycard Arena, Birmingham

DIVA supreme and sharp-tongued comedienne, Bette Midler rolled back the years for a tour-de-force performance to kick off her first UK concert appearances in three and a half decades.

With a quick 'Hello Brummies' it was on with the Divine Intervention show. And what a show, blending cabaret, American songbook classics to showcase her jazz band and those big power ballads from the 1980s.

Age certainly hasn't withered the Divine Miss M — the Honolulu honey celebrates her 70th birthday in December — as she kept up with her dynamic trio of backing singers/dancers as she sang the frantic Tell Him from her recent girl groups tribute album, It's The Girls.

After she changed into a sparkly red dress, it was time for the anthems, The Rose, From A Distance, Stay With Me and the inevitable encore The Wind Beneath My Wings. She got deserved standing ovations. Simply divine, Miss M. LB

Tom Odell on stage at Birches Valley on Cannock Chase

Fans show Real Love for talented Tom

Tom Odell, Cannock Chase Forest

AWARD-WINNING singer/songwriter Tom Odell rocked the Chase on the final night of the three-day forest concerts weekend.

The 24-year-old entered the stage in much the same way as he burst on to the music scene – getting straight into proceedings with the up-tempo Friday Night.

From then, until the closing Another Love, Odell gave a top-class energetic performance.

His fans were treated to I Know, Hold Me and Grow Old With Me as well as a cover of John Lennon's Real Love. "Has anyone got a penguin," he asked ahead of the song that featured on the John Lewis TV advert.

There was material from the forthcoming album with the track Constellations – and he even ditched his trademark piano to perform Resist.

It was a not-so-chilly night in the open air, but Rae Morris provided decent warm-up. Her set, before the main attraction, included the singles Under the Shadows and Love Again.

Ricky rules Ella shines Prof swears

Sounds in the Grounds, Warwick Castle

NOT-SO-MUCH Kaiser as King of the Castle, Ricky Wilson ruled as the Kaiser Chiefs rocked Warwick Castle at Friday's Sounds in the Grounds concert.

The Voice judge's band topped a triple bill. First up 21-year-old rising star Ella Eyre owned the stage like a rock goddess with lion-like mane of curls and in figure-hugging black catsuit.

She belted out her Rudimental hit Waiting All Night, DJ Fresh collaboration Gravity and Sigma/Paloma Faith's Changing (which Ella co-wrote). It whet appetites for her shows at V, and Birmingham O2 Academy on November 11.

Professor Green delivered raps with impressive vocal support from Katie Holmes-Smith but used too many expletives at a family event.

So all hail Ricky who raced across the stage and even scaled scaffolding as his Kaiser Chiefs blazed with their rock classics Ruby, I Predict A Riot and a thrilling cover of The Who's Pinball Wizard. LB

Girls get their hands on national trophy

The under-15 girls team from Cardinal Griffin Catholic School triumphed in the National Schools Championship – the second win of a national tournament this year.

They have already beaten older girls to win the National County under-16 championship and won their latest title at The University of Worcester Arena.

Nenad Popovic, who helps with the coaching of the team, said: "They are dominant at the moment in national handball, they are setting the benchmark in terms of ability.

"One of the top coaches at the tournament made a comment that the Cardinal Griffin under-15s girls team could have beaten the boys winners of the same age group,.

"You have got to give the girls credit, they've worked so hard and train every Monday – the future is bright for them."

As well as the under-15s winners, the school's under-13 girls team also took part in the finals, finishing in fifth place. "The under 13s were a bit overawed for the first couple of games, they got better as the tournament went on," said Mr Popovic.

Hero father drowned in bid to save daughter

A FATHER from Walsall has been hailed a hero after drowning while trying to save his young daughter who got into difficulty in a river while on a family trip in Cumbria.

Dean Price, aged 32, was dragged underwater by currents while attempting to rescue seven-year-old daughter Delilah from the River Esk in Longtown.

His daughter survived thanks to off-duty firefighter Geoff Maxwell, who heard the family screaming for help, while working on a house nearby.

However, Mr Price disappeared. He was found in the early hours of the next day following an eight-hour search by emergency services.

Hero father Dean Price

Committed

His wife of 11 years Kelly, of Willenhall Lane near Bloxwich, said: "He was a number one dad.

"He was the best dad in the world. He was a hero and he saved his child. He always put me and the children first. He was a number one husband."

She said her husband was a committed Christian who went to church in Willenhall. The family was on holiday at the time of the tragedy, staying at Hadrian's Camp near Carlisle.

Floral tributes were left at the scene in tribute to Mr Price, whose funeral will be held next week.

Mrs Price, who is now staying with relatives, in Great Wyrley, said Delilah was now 'okay' after the ordeal.

Special invitation to young readers

LIBRARIES in Staffordshire are extending a special welcome to younger readers this week to celebrate the joy of reading.

National Children's Book Week will run until Sunday and the popular summer reading challenge scheme in libraries will launch on Saturday.

Children aged four to 11 can sign up to read six books of their choice and embark upon a fun journey of activities and exploration during their school holidays.

The theme for 2015 is record breakers and Staffordshire residents have a chance to be part of a Guinness World Record by making a pledge related to reading at special venues across the county this weekend. Visit www.staffordshire.gov.uk/libraries

Staffordshire Day to mark all that is best in the county

A Staffordshire Day is to be launched to celebrate the county's rich heritage and culture and champion its achievements and landmarks.

By Marion Brennan

County bosses are calling on residents to choose a date on which to hold annual festivities.

The first will be staged next year to mark Staffordshire's 1,000th anniversary celebrations.

Five important dates in the county's past have been put forward as contenders, including July 5 – the day in 2009 when the Staffordshire Hoard was discovered in a field in Hammerwich. The move comes as neighbours in the West Midlands this week celebrated the third Black Country Day, which now forms the climax of a month-long festival.

Other dates put forward include May 1, marking the foundation in 1759 of Josiah Wedgwood & Sons pottery; September 6, the day in 1651 when King Charles II hid in an oak tree at Boscobel House in South Staffordshire to avoid Cromwell's soldiers; September 18, marking the birth in 1709 in Lichfield of Dr Samuel Johnson; and September 27, commemorating the death in 1772 of the engineer James Brindley.

Residents are being asked to register their vote via the Enjoy Staffordshire website before July 31.

Metal detectorist Terry Herbert, who discovered the £3.28 million Staffordshire Hoard – the largest ever find of Anglo-Saxon gold which included 3,500 pieces of jewellery and weaponry – is delighted that the date of his discovery is one of the contenders. He said: "I feel proud."

Housing alert on brownfield sites

BROWNFIELD sites released for building under new government planning reforms could end up being 'gobbled up' by house builders, a business boss warns.

Chris Plant, director at Cannock Chase Chamber of Commerce, said: "Automatic zoning for brownfield sites sounds good in theory but not if it means that employment land is gobbled up by residential developers.

"There is already an acute shortage of sites for business growth in many parts of England, and a residential building boom could make that shortage worse if unchecked."

Mr Plant argued that house builders must also be prevented from buying up sites that do not require planning permission without the intention of developing them within a reasonable time frame.

40 firefighters' posts to go in £1m cutbacks

Archdiocese pilgrimage

Pilgrims braved the regular downpours Picture: Jozef Lopuszynski

AUXILIARY Bishop of Birmingham Robert Byrne was the main celebrant at a pilgrimage to the outdoor Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes, in Uxbridge Street, Hednesford.

Pilgrims from all over the Birmingham Archdiocese braved the regular downpours of rain to attend Holy Mass and Benediction at the shrine. Parish Priest Father Philip Newbold said: "It was good to see so many pilgrims from various parishes of the Archdiocese."

In the church, there was an exhibition marking this year's 75th anniversary of the Archdiocese' Pilgrinage to Lourdes in France, which began in 1933, and was only interrupted because of the Second World War.

MORE than 40 firefighter posts will be axed in Staffordshire as part of cuts to save the fire authority £1.1 million this year.

The cuts impacting on Cannock, Rugeley, Stone, Lichfield and Burton stations were approved at a meeting of Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority on Monday.

Proposals to axe emergency cover from 33 stations to 15 and 42 pumps to 15 were ruled out by fire chiefs at the meeting.

This would have saved more than £4m a year but seen 440 retained firefighters axed at a cost of up to £1m in redundancies. Instead, the authority approved cuts which will see eight full-time posts axed from Cannock, resulting in £302,000 savings along with the removal of seven retained positions at Rugeley to claw back £87,500.

Seven retained roles are being scrapped from Stone to save £77,000 and another seven, along with a watch manager and whole time firefighter being axed at Lichfield to recover £171,000.

Decisions

This is alongside the removal of 12 full-time positions in Burton to save £452,000. The fire service says all the positions which will be axed are currently vacant.

Rich Williams, chairman of the Fire Brigades Union in Staffordshire, said: "We are very disappointed. What they have done is reduce a whole time crew by at least 20 people and they have taken 21 retained firefighters out of the establishment. All they do is talk about money but they have made these decisions with £11m in reserves."

The decision will also see an engine removed from each of Cannock, Rugeley, Stone and Burton and the appliance in Lichfield replaced with a smaller one.

Chief fire officer Peter Dartford said: "In the last six years demand for the fire service has reduced by a third. The recommendations involve reducing our response capability by less than ten per cent and maintain all of our current first appliances."

Customers pleased to meat soap stars

Corrie actors Steven Arnold and Andrew Whyment marking 30 years of D&R Meats at Penkridge Market

TWO stars of the cobbles visited Penkridge Market to help mark the 30th anniversary of the town's butchers.

Coronation Street actors Steven Arnold and Andrew Whyment, best known as Ashley Peacock and Kirk Sutherland, paid a special visit to the market's resident butchers, D&R Meats.The pair famously ran the meat shop in the soap, though Steven is no longer on the show. The actors visited the village business which has been trading since 1985, and pulled in the crowds, with the owners having to bring in an extra refrigerated lorry of meat to cope with demand.

Customers enjoyed posing for photographs with the pair. Company founder of the company, David Davis described the anniversary as a 'huge milestone'.

Health probe costs £19.5m

HEALTH watchdog Monitor says it will avoid sending special administrators into troubled hospitals in future after its Stafford Hospital investigation cost almost £19.5million.

Monitor reports that the budget overran because the trust special administrators were met with a lot of resistance from the public.

Stormy public meetings when the administrators were confronted by angry protesters were also mentioned.

The watchdog said it made a mistake by not giving local health trusts, hospitals and other providers a bigger say and including them in talks at an earlier stage. An agreement would have been found quicker had that been done, it states.

Spokesman Kirk Millis-Ward said: "People who are working in hospitals where there are long-standing problems do not like it when regulators come in from London and impose their ways. As a result, the administrators were negotiating from a weak position and the whole process was prolonged."

The report argues that Trust Special Administrators, appointed to oversee the management of the now dissolved Mid-Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust, had no powers to enforce their ideas. This again, led to more time than anticipated trying to bring an agreement.

The report states: "Given the challenges and additional costs involved in running a trust special administration, we will appoint one only if a more consensual solution cannot be rapidly agreed and implemented."

Monitor originally budgeted £15.25 million for the work at Staffordshire but the timescale was extended twice.

4,000 cars seized in blitz on insurance dodgers

MORE than 4,000 vehicles have been seized by Staffordshire Police officers in the first two years of a landmark crackdown on car insurance dodgers.

Cars Behind Bars was instigated by Police & Crime Commissioner Matthew Ellis – and, since its launch in May 2103, has seen 4,386 cars, vans, motorcycles, mopeds, lorries and even a tractor seized in Staffordshire.

Some 1,372 vehicles have been scrapped, while 125 higher-value uninsured vehicles have been sold off at auction with the proceeds going back into local communities in Staffordshire.

Mr Ellis said: "The crackdown on insurance dodgers remains far and away the most popular thing raised with me.

"Over 4,300 people have had to learn their lesson the hard way thanks to tremendous work by officers from Staffordshire Police – which has really gained momentum in recent months.

Seized

"Those who drive without insurance can't hide. They are being caught and dealt with by having their vehicles seized and, in many cases, scrapped or sold at auction.

"It's definitely struck a chord with law-abiding motorists who are hit by rising premiums because of these law-breakers. Why should all pay more because some people don't pay at all?"

Cars Behind Bars uses Staffordshire's extensive automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) system that identifies those flouting the law.

The fixed penalty fine for people who are caught without insurance was increased nationally from £200 to £300 in 2013. Motorists also face their car being seized, could be summoned to court and be disqualified, and an endorsement of six penalty points. Drivers re-claiming their car when they have proof of insurance have to pay £150 car recovery costs plus £20 per day storage.

Police cadet hits top grade

Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Arnold with Staffordshire Police Cadet and FGM ambassador Emily Williscroft

A POLICE cadet has hit the top grade after helping to raise awareness of a serious social issue.

Emily Williscroft, a cadet at the Cannock unit, received an A grade after she chose to do her English speaking and listening exam about Female Genital Mutilation (FGM).

Emily, 17, became an ambassador for FGM last year in order to educate other cadets and young people on the signs and side effects. The teenager said: "I did work experience in the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner in August last year and this is where I first heard about FGM.

"I was so shocked when I found out about it, but amazed at the same time at how little knowledge some people have on the subject and therefore I wanted to spread the word."

Deputy Police and Crime Commissioner Sue Arnold said: "More young people need to be educated to raise awareness and help prevent FGM."

Romans are put in the spotlight

THE Museum of Cannock Chase is giving people the chance to explore Roman life through displays featuring costumes, food and domestic life.

The Young Archaeologists' Club is presenting What did the Romans ever do for us? on Saturday, July 25 between 11am and 4pm at the museum in Valley Road, Hednesford.

There will be exhibits by Penk Valley Archaeology Group and demonstrations by county archaeologist Stephen Dean. There will also be activities throughout the day, including the chance to throw water-filled sponges at the YAC leaders.

Admission is £1 for adults and 50p for children.

It is part of the Festival of Archaeology 2015. For details, email museumofcannockchase@wlct.org or call 01543 877666.

Abstract art goes on show

The display, called Stepping Away, will show how Ken turns his sketchbook drawings into abstract art. Each piece will be accompanied by the original sketch, development drawings and experimental work.

MP seeks assurances over electrification of Chase Line

ASSURANCES are being sought that the £30 million electrification of the Chase Line through Hednesford will not be hit by delays.

Transport Secretary Patrick McLoughlin has 'paused' electrification of several routes after Network Rail's costs spiralled and it missed targets. electrification work on the Chase Line, which also serves Cannock and Rugeley, is already under way.

By Daniel Wainwright

However, Cannock Chase MP Amanda Milling has written to the minister to stress the importance of the upgrade of the line, which links Rugeley with Walsall.

Mr McLoughlin admitted that some major electrification schemes are to be put on hold pending a further consideration of costs.

Schedule

He said investment was not, after all, going to deliver the projects that were promised in a £38.5 billion five-year plan because of what he called Network Rail's unacceptable performance.

The two major schemes affected are the Midland Main Line and Trans Pennine schemes, and there has been no suggestion that the Chase Line electrification would be affected.

But Miss Milling is seeking Mr McLoughlin's assurances that it remains on schedule for delivery by December 2017. In her letter, the Conservative MP stressed that the cost of the electrification of the Chase Line is much smaller than the major schemes which have been put on hold.

And she added that the benefits both to the constituency and strategically for the rail network make the scheme cost-effective.

Miss Milling said: "Research suggests that significant regional economic benefits and job creation will result from this scheme.

"I will work hard to ensure that it is delivered.

"I have written to the Secretary of State to reinforce the importance of this major investment in the Chase Line and seek his assurances that it will proceed as currently planned."

The line beyond Walsall is already electrified all the way to Birmingham.

Mazie Harper, who is representing Great Britain in the BMX World Championships

Mazie's in saddle for world bid

A SIX-year-old girl from Hednesford has been picked to represent Great Britain in the BMX world championships. Mazie Harper has only been racing with the Wrekin Riders for around 12 months.

She is ranked sixth in the UK which meant she booked her place in the Great Britain squad at the world championships in Belgium which start on July 21.

Mazie's father Stuart, aged 35, mother Hayley, 34 and eight-year-old sister Sofia have travelled all over the UK to cheer her on in the British National Series.

Mazie, from Festival Mews, has been training around three times a week in the lead up to event in Zolder and flies out this weekend.

Mr Harper said: "She is going to try her hardest and wants to do well."

£5k reward offered on stables raid

PETS Corner UK in Hednesford is offering a £5,000 reward for information leading to a conviction after a horse riding school was burgled again.

CCTV image

The office was ransacked and keys were taken from Stevie Ansell's Horse Riding and Therapy Centre off Pelsall Road, Brownhills. Ten horse saddles were taken.

On June 9, vandals also broke into the stables and left a £400 trail of damage.

More than 20 horses were set free in the raid.

Stevie Ansell, who owns the horse riding centre, said: "We're targeted all the time, it's just getting worse now, it's a lot worse than last time."

Summer fun at museum

WILLOW weaving and pottery making are on offer at a summer fun day at the Museum of Cannock Chase next month.

Stalls and displays, Punch & Judy, a vintage bus and face painting are also among the attractions on Sunday, August 2 at the venue in Valley Road, Hednesford.

It takes place from noon to 4pm. Refreshments will be available and the galleries and gift shops will be open.

Kerrie felt her life was 'spiralling out of control'

Weight loss Kerrie is now back in control

A CANNOCK mother who was shocked by her midwife into losing weight is starting her own slimming class this month.

When Kerrie, from Heath Hayes, discovered she was pregnant with her second child, she was understandably elated. However, she was soon brought back down to earth when her midwife told her she was clinically obese and was putting herself and her unborn child at risk.

Kerrie gave birth to a healthy girl, Nancy, on August 2 last year, but admits the words from her midwife were "a lightning bolt of reality that I needed to change my life."

She said: "The feelings of guilt grew and I was determined to lose weight."

Within two weeks of Nancy's birth Kerrie was out of her maternity wear and back in her pre-pregnancy size 20 clothes. The newborn, however, was soon diagnosed with Reflux disease, and, as the symptoms calmed with medication, Kerrie's own health was taking a battering.

Kerrie now feels in control of her life – and her weight

Helpless

She said: "I was lost, lonely, isolated and comfort eating – never have I felt so helpless."

With encouragement from her friend she went to her GP for support and was prescribed anti-depressants for post-natal depression. She believed her life was 'spiralling out of control' and she needed to take charge again.

She dug out her old Slimming World books to at least take control of one aspect of her life – what she was eating.

"I couldn't control a crying baby, the feeling of loneliness, but I realised I could control food, what I pop in my mouth," she said.

Embracing her new-found feeling of control, she found a love for food and taking the time when Nancy was sleeping to experiment with new recipes.

"I lost one and half stone very quickly and my mood was lifting with each pound I lost," she said.

When her weight stayed constant, she decided to rejoin Slimming World, set herself a goal and has not looked back. She is now two and a half stone lighter and has dropped two dress sizes.

Kerrie, who is also mother to eight-year-old Toby, has even completed a live 5k running challenge on ITV's This Morning in 35 minutes and received a Gold Body Magic award at her Slimming World group.

She said: "I love all the foods and that nothing is off limits, I can still enjoy chocolate and a glass of wine and best of all I love being in control and making my choices and the whole family are benefitting from these lifestyle changes too."

The impact on Kerrie's life has been profound. "I well on my way to my personal target, I'm healthy, I'm happy and I've found me again."

Kerrie has now become a Slimming World consultant and her group begins on July 29 at the Welcome Club, Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes. Call 07708 477557 for details.

Caravan site proposal earmarked for refusal

PLANNING officers say a touring caravan site in Rugeley is an 'inappropriate development in the green-belt'.

Officers were recommending plans to convert a smallholding on Kingsley Wood Road into a campsite for up to ten caravans be refused ahead of planning control committee meeting yesterday (Wednesday).

Brindley Heath Parish Council had objected to the plans. It expressed concerns about the impact it would have on the natural surroundings as well as fears over traffic and noise.

Stylish showroom with skilled team

COMMERCIAL FEATURE

NEUXGEN are an established local business who over the last six months have embarked on restoring one of the town's oldest building's, the Grade II listed Bank House, back to life.

The building in Mill Street stood empty and unused for many years with seemingly nobody prepared to take on the challenge.

Over the last six months Neuxgen, with their own skilled workforce, have renovated the building, a former bank-come cheque cash centre and office block to name but a few uses – and in no time at all now stands a modern bathroom and glazing showroom.

Brands

With the co-operation of the local council Neuxgen have restored many of the building's original features. Now this once empty building is a stylish bathroom showroom offering leading brands such as Ideal Standard, Grohe, Hudson Read and Ellis Furniture.

They offer their customers a free no obligation home survey and unlike many showrooms they offer a in-house design service and installation service.

Neuxgen Managing Director Lee Gill said: "We are so proud to bring a redundant building which was an eyesore on Mill Street back in to use and will continually strive to improve the building over the coming years.

"We chose to be in Cannock as we believe the whole area is benefiting from significant private and Government funding with many exciting retail developments such as Mill Green Designer Village.

"We hope to create many job opportunities for skilled trades and will implement a strategy to take on local apprentices who show a commitment to enter the construction world."

He added: "Our showroom offers a solution to all of our customers' requests and budgetary constraints, so whether it's just a single double glazed window unit or a complete new fully installed bathroom, we believe we can help.

"We look forward to welcoming the people of Cannock to our showroom and meeting our passionate and skilled team."

Close encounter of the hilarious kind

Hang onto your underpants... the aliens are on the way to entertain family audiences at Wolverhampton Grand Theatre

IN space there are no underpants, and that's a problem because Aliens Love Underpants... of every shape and size.

The zany and hilarious tale based on the best-selling children's book by Claire Freedman and Ben Cort has been turned into a colourful stage production with stunning effects, madcap action and original music. And lots and lots of aliens.

This fresh and funny family show, adapted and directed by Adam Bampton-Smith, has been described as a close encounter of the most entertaining kind and will be staged at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre from Wednesday to Friday, July 22 to 24.

Aliens Love Underpants is performed at 2 and 4.30pm on Wednesday, 11am and 2pm Thursday and at 11am only on the Friday.

Tickets are £12.50, available from the website www.grandtheatre.co.uk or by calling the Lichfield Street venue's box office on 01902 429212... just hang onto your pants!

From bayou to Bilston

FROM shot-gun shack to festival main stage, the prodigious talents of Lil' Jimmy Reed have taken him a long way from the banks of the Mississippi river.

One of the last surviving performers of the classic Louisiana down-home blues era, Lil' Jimmy has recently been inducted into the prestigious Blues Hall of Fame.

After taking several countries in Europe by storm over the past 12 months, with many sell-out shows and standing ovations, not bad for someone whose first guitar was fashioned out an old cigar box and learned to play by ear.

The bluesman is coming to Bilston to perform at the Robin 2 on Wednesday, July 22.

His first guitar was fashioned out of an old cigar box. He learned to play by ear, never had a lesson in his life.

His real name is Leon Atkins and he acquired the name change after turning up to watch the popular blues singer Jimmy Reed; the management at the venue, seeing their man was too worse for wear with drink to put before an audience, and aware of Leon's growing reputation, thrust him onto the stage, introducing him as Lil' Jimmy Reed — and the name stuck!

The 76-year-old musician will be appearing with his band, featuring Bob Hall on boogie woogie piano, for this all-seated show at the Mount Pleasant venue.

Tickets are £14 in advance or £15 on the door, open from 7.30pm. Book at www.therobin.co.uk or call the box office on 01902 401211.

New Order returning with album and tour

NEW Order will play a gig at Wolverhampton's Civic Hall in November, after releasing their first album in ten years.

The Manchester group will take to the stage on November 24. Music Complete, released in September, will feature guests Brandon Flowers, Iggy Pop and Elly Jackson, of La Roux, and is their first album since Waiting for the Sirens Call in 2005.

Since then bass player Peter Hook left the group, which was formed by members of Joy Division after singer Ian Curtis's death in 1980. New Order hits include 1990 England World Cup anthem World in Motion, Regret and Blue Monday. Tickets are £41.25.

Blue star Simon as a big bad wolf

A NEW family musical is trotting into Birmingham Town Hall before heading to London's West End.

Birmingham's own Blue and Strictly Come Dancing star Simon Webbe will play the big bad wolf in 3 Little Pigs, from the songwriting duo George Stiles and Anthony Drewe, at the Victoria Square venue for matinee performances from July 28 to August 2.

His co-stars include West End stars Leanne Jones from Hairspray and Wolverhampton's Taofique Folarin from The Lion King. Tickets start at £12 plus fees from www.thsh.co.uk or call 0121 345 0600.

Camel make Civic classic rock oasis

KENT rock band Camel formed in 1971 and are still producing the goods more than 40 years on, albeit with only guitarist/vocalist Andy Latimer remaining from the original line-up.

Stalwarts of the Canterbury progressive rock scene, that also spawned Soft Machine, Caravan and Matching Mole, Camel created 14 studio albums. They won acclaim in 1974 with second album Mirage and 1975 concept album The Snow Goose.

They will be in concert at Wolverhampton Civic Hall on Thursday, July 23. Tickets start at £27.50, from www.wolvescivic.co.uk or by calling 0970 320 7000.

The Crown at Wergs – perfect for eating outside or inside

Place to be – The Crown is worth dressing up for

A great way to start lunch – the beech mushrooms in a white wine and black garlic velouté

Choc pots – the caramel added a nice twist

This real jewel in city's Crown offers a right royal tasty treat

A BELLY full of good food, the sun beating down and a chilled glass of white wine in hand , it's fair to say I was one satisfied diner.

By Emily Bridgewater

There's something about the laid-back vibe, friendly atmosphere and great food at The Crown at Wergs in Wolverhampton, which keeps luring me back time after time.

And on my recent visit, once again I wasn't disappointed. We struck lucky, it was a blistering hot Sunday afternoon and so we chose to sit outside in the front garden.

And if the weather wasn't as gorgeous as it had been, we'd have been happy enough inside as the surroundings are classy and the decor modern.

It's the kind of place that you want to make an effort for – if you pop in, get a little dressed up – it's more than just a bog-standard pub and to be fair, I think The Crown knows it.

There is plenty of room inside, with luxurious furnishings, huge tables for large groups as well as places to sit at the bar. The Sunday papers were stacked up on our visit too (a nice touch), so we grabbed a couple and settled in with a Pinot Grigio and a pint of cider as we looked over the menus.

Normally I stick to the same foods whenever I eat out, but the menu at The Crown was so good I wanted to try something new.

I've also got a bit of a habit of looking at the dessert menu first, choosing what I want and then figuring out what else I can fit in so I'm not too full. Is it just me that does that? So deciding I was definitely having the apple tart I could go all out with my first two courses. The starters were difficult to choose from. My friend had already set his heart on the Beech mushrooms dish and I eventually went for the warm Melusine goat's cheese crottin with beetroot carpaccio and borage honey.

Sweetness

The dish was summer on a plate, warm, gooey, sharp cheese was balanced by the beetroot, while the sweetness of the honey added a very pleasant extra. My friend's mushrooms arrived in a creamy and rich white wine and black garlic velouté. The mushrooms were tender, the poached egg was perfectly runny and yellow and the and pistou brioche added a contrasting texture.

The main courses were as difficult to choose from as the starters, I could have devoured pretty much anything on the list. But in the end it was the duck that I went with. The Gressingham duck leg confit was moist, the waffle was sweet and a surprising delight. Together with the sweet potato and honey roasted pineapple it made for a sugary dish, but I thought it was divine.My friend's fillet steak was a hunk of juicy meat and was a real quality cut which was cooked perfectly medium rare.

We were getting too full for dessert, but I'd already decided what I was having. The warm tarte aux pommes was exactly as I'd hoped it would be. Thinly sliced apples on wafer thin pastry and with the creamiest vanilla ice cream. My friend wolfed down his salted caramel chocolate pot – gooey chocolate, with the caramel subtly offsetting the taste of the chocolate. Our meal and drinks came to just over £80, which is not cheap, but for three excellent courses, a couple of glasses of wine and a cider, was worth every penny.

George MacKay

The Outcast (BBC1, 9.00pm)

The conclusion of Sadie Jones' two-part adaptation of her own best-selling novel of the same name. With his mother's tragic death having set in motion a chain of events that would lead him down a self-destructive path to prison, Lewis Aldridge serves his sentence, and resolves to return home to suburban Surrey a changed man. However, despite his intention to amends for the mistakes of his past, the residents of his childhood home might not be so pleased to see him. Coming of age drama, set in the 1950s, starring George MacKay, Daisy Bevan, Jessica Brown Findlay, Finn Elliot, Greg Wise, Frances Jeater, Hattie Morahan and Nathaniel Parker.

BBC1

7.10 Countryfile. The team heads to Northumberland, where Matt Baker meets an artist who has become a keen diver in an effort to better capture on canvas the landscapes that lie beneath the surface of the North Sea. Together, the pair embark on an underwater exploration near the Farne Islands. Including Weather for the Week Ahead.

8.00 Fake or Fortune? Fiona Bruce and art expert Philip Mould visit a church in Lancashire, once patronised by Yorkshire's famous Bronte sisters, that is the home of a painting thought to have been produced by an Italian old master. The picture itself is a pieta, an image of the aftermath of Christ's crucifixion, and Philip has a hunch it may be from the Italian Renaissance, possibly making this one of the oldest pieces featured in the series so far. On behalf of the church's congregation, Fiona and Philip travel to Italy to compare the Lancastrian pieta with works by old masters Titian and Tintortetto, while back in the UK, Bendor Grosvenor investigates the history of a local aristocrat who is believed to have donated the painting to the church more than 200 years ago.

9.00 The Outcast. Lewis returns home a changed man following his release from prison, and is determined to make amends for the mistakes of his past. Coming-of-age drama, starring George Mackay.

The life and times of a broadcasting great

Erudite. Intellectual. The thinking woman's crumpet. A stripe-shirted guru who interviews the artistic heavyweights.

Melvyn Bragg has been called everything in his time. But it's for something far more basic that he is likely to be remembered, long after the big names of literature have been ticked off his South Bank Show guest list. It's sex. Steamy sex. Raunchy sex. Read-behind-the-bike shed sex. All contained in the well-thumbed pages of his highly acclaimed novels which have been known to bring readers as well as the literary world out in a sweat. Remember A Time To Dance, which was serialised on television in 1992? Bragg could barely move for the letters which poured into his office from people who could identify with the steamy shenanigans going on between a middle-aged bank manager and his young lover. And what about Crystal Rooms? It made A Time To Dance seem like Mary Poppins.

But Bragg, now 75, defends those 'meaty bits' by saying: "I write about sex because it's there to be written about." Adding with relish: "In other people's books it's often salacious or crude. In mine it involves mystery, awe and certain unidentifiable feelings..." But there's more, much more, to Melvyn Bragg's immeasurable talents than a handful of steamy sex scenes.

Three films, a couple of musicals, a best-selling biography of Richard Burton, several more novels, shows on both radio and TV... need he go on?

But Melvyn isn't one to brag (sorry). He doesn't need to. The results of his prolific workload are there for everyone to see, enjoy, and comment on. Yes, even snigger behind the bike sheds. And by all accounts there's plenty more on the way. "If you ask me what I want to be doing in five years' time I would say pretty much what I'm doing now," he remarks.

The idea of still being at work at the age of 80 would send shivers down the spine of most people, but you can imagine Bragg still throwing himself into new projects left, right and centre. How does he manage to juggle so many strands seemingly so seamlessly?

"I compartmentalise, and I don't have any hobbies," he reveals. "I was married at 21, and when I started work I had to find the time to write. I had to get up at five in the morning and work at weekend, and I just got into the habit of running that and my day job together.

"Luckily I had a job that I enjoyed, and that gives you energy."

Bragg is clearly doing something right because he's about to celebrate 50 years as one of Britain's foremost champions of the arts.

This documentary takes him back to his working class roots in Wigton in Cumbria, and examines how his background has had an influence on his career.

There's also a chance to find out more about his university years, rise to fame and status as a member of the House of Lords.

Plus, an eclectic group of famous faces offer their opinions on Bragg and his work, including Judi Dench, Tony Blair, Grayson Perry, Chris Evans, John Birt and Will Self.

Melvyn Bragg: Wigton to Westminster, Saturday, BBC2, 9.15pm

BEST OF THE REST

MONDAY
Britain at the Bookies
BBC1, 9pm
Betting is big business in Britain - but can high-street bookmaker Coral beat the odds and remain a winner in an increasingly crowded market? The first episode in a new series going behind the scenes at the chain heads to Huddersfield, West Yorkshire, where eleven betting shops are currently competing for punters in the town centre, including Coral's Cherrytree branch, which is struggling to hit its targets and has gained an unwelcome reputation for disruptive customers. Manager Tony is the man with difficult job of turning its fortunes around. Meanwhile, at Coral HQ, the marketing team prepare to take a big wager on an online scheme, novelty betting specialist Gary works out the odds on a new series of Strictly Come Dancing, and back in Huddersfield, self-confessed compulsive gambler Stuart offers an insight into his life.

TUESDAY
Imagine
BBC1, 10.35pm
The life and work of Man Booker Prize winner Richard Flanagan is examined in Alan Yentob's film. The grandson of illiterates, a school drop-out, a river guide, builder's labourer, and a passionate campaigner for conservation, the Australian author travels with Yentob through his native Tasmania. They visit the places that have inspired his novels, and on to Thailand, to see first-hand the site of the Death Railway – the brutal setting of his award-winning novel, The Narrow Road to The Deep North.

WEDNESDAY
Witnesses
Channel 4, 10pm
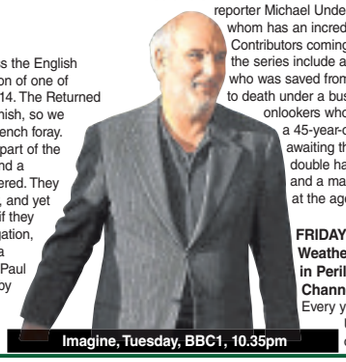
The broadcaster's last raid across the English Channel resulted in the acquisition of one of the most intriguing dramas of 2014. The Returned was gripping stuff from start to finish, so we have high hopes for their next French foray. Witnesses is set in the northern part of the country, where a man, woman and a teenager have been found murdered. They had no connection to each other, and yet were left posed by their killer as if they were a family. During the investigation, detective Sandra Winckler finds a picture of legendary police chief Paul Maisonneuve, who is so baffled by the snapshot that he comes out of retirement to help find whodunit.



Imagine, Tuesday, BBC1, 10.35pm

THURSDAY
Real Stories with Ranvir Singh
ITV, 7.30pm
New series. Good Morning Britain news presenter Ranvir Singh presents this documentary meeting ordinary people involved in extraordinary events that have changed their lives. Each edition features three different individuals, interviewed by Ranvir or reporter Michael Underwood, each of whom has an incredible story to tell. Contributors coming up throughout the series include a father-of-two who was saved from being crushed to death under a bus by a crowd of onlookers who rushed to help, a 45-year-old mother awaiting the UK's first double hand transplant and a man with dementia at the age of 39.

FRIDAY
Weather Terror: Brits in Peril
Channel 5, 8pm
Every year, millions of UK residents jet off abroad on holiday, hoping to escape the vagaries of the British summer. But what happens if you encounter weather conditions much, much worse than anything you would have experienced back in Blighty? This programme should offer some insights, as it hears from two Brits who found themselves in the Philippines during the most devastating typhoon on record – yet despite their own fears, they still went to the rescue of elderly hotel residents who had become trapped by the rising storm surge. The documentary also features a family whose camping holiday in France ended in them being stranded on the roof of the site's clubhouse for 14 hours, and a student who survived for seven days without food when a hiking trail in Turkey was hit by flash floods.

Live Athletics: Anniversary Games
BBC2, 8pm
Jonathan Edwards presents further coverage of the meeting at the Olympic Stadium in London, which marks the third anniversary of the Olympics and also serves at the 11th round of the Diamond League series. Mo Farah is scheduled to compete in the 3,000m, while another British hero from the Games, Jessica Ennis-Hill, is expected to take part in the 100m hurdles. With analysis from Colin Jackson, Paula Radcliffe and Denise Lewis.

Agent supports Olympic hope

MARRION & Company – an estate agent of Bloxwich – is delighted to be sponsoring an 18-year-old disabled equestrian student from Cannock.

Having started her riding career at just three years of age, Emily Murdoch has had a lifelong passion for horses and competition riding.

Sadly she was first diagnosed with childhood multiple sclerosis aged 12.

A spokesman for Marrion & Co said: "In spite of the onset of this crippling disease affecting Emily's day-to-day life, she has gone on to win many disabled and able bodied dressage competitions.

"Having worked very hard at the sport she is so passionate about, Emily's efforts have been duly recognised as she is now a grade three para equestrian rider and has just been invited to represent Great Britain in competition from July of this year."

This honour is truly deserved and may well lead to selection for the Olympic Team competing in Rio in 2017. The spokesman added: "All at Marrion and Company would like to take this opportunity to wish Emily well and very much look forward to supporting her in the future."

Help to Buy

PRICES FROM £96,000 WITH HELP TO BUY*

*Eligible applicants will be offered an equity loan up to a maximum of 20% of the purchase price (based on the open market value) interest free for the first 5 years. After year five, you will pay a fee on the equity loan of 1.75%, rising annually by the retail price index plus 1%. Applicants are required to fund at least 80% of the purchase price by means of a conventional mortgage, savings and any deposit where required. The equity loan is held as a second charge on the property. Terms and conditions apply and full details will be provided on request. This offer is subject to status and available on selected properties in England only. It is not offered with any other promotion. Terms and conditions apply. YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON YOUR MORTGAGE. Details and prices correct at time of going to press.

Mondeo heads in the right direction

By John Griffiths

It's such a familiar sight on Britain's roads that 20 years or so ago Ford's Mondeo became a byword for people who were going places – Mondeo Man was born.

It's been the workhorse of the nation's sales reps and business users, and a popular choice for the family motorist over the past 21 years.

Now the Mondeo is going places too. It's going upwards, in fact: it's now one of the larger of the family cars, capable of carrying five six-footers and their luggage in comfort.

It's also smoother, quieter, and quite capable of beating many of the established 'premium' brands at their own game, but without alienating the traditional Mondeo man by charging premium prices.

Family buyers might, for example, be attracted by the innovative inflatable rear seatbelts which have been tested to significantly reduce the chance of injury to back seat passengers. Or business users may choose from the two most economical options which mean no vehicle excise duty to pay and the bare minimum in company car tax.

The test car was one of those, a 1.6 turbo diesel 'Econetic' in Zetec spec at £22,995 (new Mondeo prices start at £19.995) which has an official fuel average of 78.5mpg and a tax-busting 94g/km of CO2 emissions, I didn't manage to be as ultra economical as the official test figures, but found the low 60s easily and consistently achievable – better than some small city cars I've driven. That compares well with the first-ever Mondeo petrol-electric hybrid (67.3 mpg) and represents an awful lot of car for running costs as low (or lower) than a typical 'B' segment hatchback.

The sleeker, almost coupe-like outline of this fifth generation Mondeo is new but we've seen it before: it was first revealed to the motoring press back in 2012. But the recession and Ford's decision to move the production line from Belgium to Spain meant an unusually long wait for it to appear in showrooms.

Ford says, though, that they've used that time profitably by fine-tuning the new car (already sold across the Atlantic as the Fusion) for European roads and buyers.

The strategy behind the new car is pretty clear and simple. All cars need to be cleaner and greener for a variety of reasons, especially the buyers' bills.

But a new Mondeo also needed to go upmarket, to compete with some of the 'premium' German brands, and Jaguar with its new XE, which have captured a slice of the business market which Ford had once made very much its own.

Badge

It's a real challenge in a sector where badge snobbery still reigns supreme and only time will tell if the strategy works. But for me, the Mondeo is certainly up to the challenge in terms of comfort, technology and driveability.

For a start, it beats many of its rivals for sheer space. It's only fractionally shorter than Jaguar's XF, and has plenty of head and leg room for six-footers plus a whopping 541 litres of cargo space (up to 1,437 with the rear seats folded flat).

Yet from the outside it looks sleek and low slung, with its new front end, lighting cluster and big grille which some have likened to an Aston Martin.

Ford have made big efforts to upgrade the interior, too, with the use of higher quality materials and especially some excellent new front seats which will even give you a gentle massage on the move. It's measurably quieter, too, thanks not just to extra sound-deadening work but also a newly-designed rear suspension system.

The Econetic's 1.6 litre diesel engine doesn't, on paper, seem a lot for a car of this size but it does have 115PS of power and a useful 270Nm of torque.

It is a car designed for economy, so don't be surprised if the 0 to 62mph sprint is fairly leisurely at 12.1 seconds but it's a long distance motorway cruiser par excellence as I found on a business trip to North Yorkshire. It is running for most of the time at well below 2,000rpm with barely a whisper from under the bonnet.

The driver has an instrument binnacle with speedo and rev counter, plus a comprehensive trip computer and a multifunction steering wheel with finger/thumb controls for the cruise control/speed limiter, audio and phone. The centre console is dominated by an eight-inch colour touch screen which is the hub of Ford's new SYNC 2 system which controls information, audio, phone and (a £300 extra) navigation. Alloy wheels, LED lights, electrically heated/folding door mirrors, dual zone climate control, cruise control and speed limiter, hill launch assist and Ford's 'Quickclear' windscreen were also standard on this Zetec model.

Peugeot 2008 Special Edition

Following the showroom success of Peugeot's 2008 Crossover, a new special edition is announced for 2015 – the 2008 Urban Cross, now available to order and priced from £16,495.

Based on the Active badge level, but benefiting from enhanced specification, the 2008 Urban Cross is available in either the 1.2-litre PureTech 110hp S&S (Stop & Start) with 108g/km of CO2 or 1.6-litre BlueHDi 100hp S&S with 95g/km of CO2 emissions.

Prices for all-new Honda HR-V to start at £17,995

Honda UK has announced that the new Honda HR-V subcompact crossover will be priced from £17,995 on-the-road for the entry-level S grade petrol model, rising to £24,945 for the flagship EX diesel.

For those seeking finance packages, competitive PCP options for the dynamic and distinctive new Honda are expected to start from £149 per month 5.9 per cent APR with a 30 per cent deposit, bringing great affordability to the small crossover segment.

The all-new HR-V blends characterful coupé looks merged with the tough, solid stance of a robust SUV. Inside, occupants will find class-leading boot space. Thanks to innovative packaging, the HR-V's has exceptional versatility incorporating Honda's highly practical Magic Seats system, allowing for numerous loading configurations.

Buyers opting for the base-grade S model are well catered for, with convenience features such as climate control, cruise control and dusk-sensing automatic headlamps fitted as standard.

The mid-grade SE model, priced from £19,745, adds a range of premium features, including rain sensing wipers, front and rear parking sensors and a six-speaker audio upgrade. A 'Smart Touch' interior includes touch panel controls for the upgraded dual-zone climate control.

Customers choosing the top-grade EX model (from £23,195) will appreciate the full leather interior, smart entry and start, and a rear-view camera. The sense of HR-V's spaciousness is amplified with the unique-in-class, tilt-and-slide opening panoramic glass sunroof. Styling is enhanced with 17-inch alloy wheels.

Customers opting for the SE or EX models will also benefit from the Honda Connect in-car infotainment system as standard. This Android-based system features an app-based 'pinch, swipe and tap' interface accessed on a seven-inch touchscreen in the centre of the dash.

Honda Connect comes with pre-installed apps, with others available for download from the Honda App Centre. These give rapid access to internet-based services such as web browsing, real-time traffic information, news and weather, social media, and internet music stations. Integrated Garmin navigation is standard on EX and is available as an option on SE models.

Designed and engineered to achieve a five-star Euro NCAP rating, every new HR-V sold in Europe will be equipped with Honda's City-Brake Active System as standard. SE or EX models will feature Honda's Advanced Driver Assist System, which uses radar sensors, plus forward- and rear-facing cameras. This comprehensive suite of active safety technologies includes Forward Collision Warning, Traffic Sign Recognition, Intelligent Speed Limiter, Lane Departure Warning and High-beam Support System.

The HR-V boasts an engaging drive coupled with efficient performance, thanks to a choice of all-new 130 PS 1.5 litre i-VTEC petrol and 120 PS 1.6 litre i-DTEC diesel engines. Combined with either a six-speed manual gearbox or a newly developed CVT (for petrol models only), emissions are as low as 104 g/km of CO2. The CVT's driveability is given a more natural 'multi-gear' feel through the use of new control software exclusive to Europe which simulates seven speeds and provides optimised gear change mapping.

Leon Brannan, head of cars at Honda UK, said: "Sixteen years after the original HR-V, Honda is returning to the crossover segment it pioneered with the exceptionally spacious, versatile and technologically advanced HR-V. And with highly competitive list prices, we are expecting huge demand for the all-new HR-V.

"We've boldly identified that 2015 is 'the year of Honda' and HR-V signals the third of five new and refreshed models for the brand this year. Following the arrival of the extensively upgraded CR-V – the HR-V's bigger sibling – and the recent launch of the thrilling all-new Civic Type R, we're confident the HR-V will further broaden the appeal of the Honda brand amongst a wide range of car buyers."

Exclusivity guaranteed in special Sportage

By Sharon Walters

Exclusivity is guaranteed with the new Kia Sportage Axis Edition, a limited-run model of which only 1,200 will be made.

The Sportage 'Axis Edition' has been styled and equipped to provide retail and fleet customers with many of the features of a high-grade Sportage for a mid-range price, starting from just £20,995 on the road from this week.

The engines are the 1.6-litre GDi direct-injection petrol unit developing 133bhp and 165Nm of torque, or the advanced 1.7-litre common-rail turbodiesel which develops 114bhp and 260Nm. Both are front-wheel-drive models with a six-speed manual t

The standard colour is solid Arctic White, but buyers are able to opt for one of three metallic finishes – Phantom Black, Fusion White or Dark Gun Metal – for £525.

The Sportage 'Axis Edition' models sit between trim grades '2' and '3' in the range, but include many of the features found even higher in the line-up plus a number of SUV finishing touches, including roof rails as standard. The black gloss arrow mesh radiator grille with chrome surround, LED daytime running lamps and rear LED combination lamps and the roof-mounted 'shark's fin' antenna deliver a premium look.

The front and outer rear seats incorporate heater elements. The premium look of the interior is enhanced by black headlining, black B and C pillar coverings and black sun visors, grab handles and map light switches. Privacy glass and an auto-dimming rear-view mirror are other luxury flourishes fitted as standard.

Mapping

This includes an AM/FM radio, CD player, USB and AUX sockets and iPod connectivity. Bluetooth music streaming and hands-free phone operation are also supported, with voice control in any of 10 languages.

The Axis Edition models also come with a seven-inch touchscreen satellite navigation system including full UK postcode recognition and European mapping for 44 countries.

The system includes TMC traffic messaging with a detour function, motorway junction views, lane guidance and a speed limit alert. It allows the driver to input quick, short and economy routes. A reversing camera with views displayed in the touchscreen is an additional useful feature built into the system.

Typically, a GDi engine will deliver seven per cent more torque at low engine revolutions and 12 per cent more torque at high rpm than a conventional engine of similar capacity – and with fuel economy improvement of about 10 per cent.

A fine mist of petrol is injected directly into each of the four cylinders at up to 135 bar in minutely precise quantities and with millisecond timing to ensure the Sportage uses only as much fuel as it needs, exactly when it needs it. The result is highly efficient combustion that ensures excellent performance with low fuel consumption and emissions.

The 1.7-litre turbodiesel is part of the U2 family. Developing 114bhp at 4,000rpm and 260Nm (192lb/ft) of torque at 1,250 - 2,750rpm, it has been crafted for optimum driveability in European conditions.

Performance is similar to that of the 1.6-litre petrol version, with a maximum speed of 107mph and 0-60mph acceleration in 11.9 seconds, while combined fuel economy is 54.4mpg and CO2 emissions are 135g/km.

As with every Kia, the Sportage Axis Edition models come with a unique in the UK seven-year or 100,000 mile warranty, subject to certain wear and tear conditions. It is fully transferable should the car be sold before the time or mileage limits have been reached

Golf GTE, a practical approach to motoring

By Ian Donaldson

There was no escaping the gleam in the eyes of the people I met while trying to plug the test Golf into a public charging point to add more free miles to the journey.

None of the drivers was in a Golf GTE – it's too new to see many on the road – but they were all solid converts of life with a battery doing the work. It's saving them a small fortune, they reckoned.

Two were driving Nissan Leafs, an all-electric car that simply stops when the juice runs out (after 90 miles when I tried one), but their owners simply planned recharge stops, or contemplated hiring a conventional car for the occasional long drive.

The Golf GTE won't go anywhere near that far on electricity alone, with an optimistic 31 miles quoted by its maker. The best I managed, with air con off and never exceeding 50mph, was 24 miles.

All of them delightfully smooth and quiet, it must be said, as the electric motor pulled this spacious and quite weighty machine away from a standstill with the insistent strength of gravity turned on its side.

And when the electric power is spent, the petrol engine switches itself on and you proceed with a little more noise from up front but with a range only limited by finding a filling station.

Pence

Topping up the battery from a three pin domestic plug takes under four hours and costs pence.

It was faster (and free) from the charge points I found in a couple of town centres, but be warned, the big white rapid charging boxes at motorway services won't work on the GTE.

Anyway, after precisely 601 miles on test the dashboard monitor showed an overall fuel consumption of 69.2mpg. That included several battery top ups but one long journey on mostly petrol power alone (with no charger at the overnight halt).

So even with a short all-electric range, the GTE was a thrifty machine.

Recharge

Stiffer springs than a conventional Golf and bigger alloy wheels firm up the ride and provide something like a sporty feel on corners, while a thick rimmed steering wheel and subtly tartan trim play on the junior GTI theme inside.

Volkswagen builds an all-electric e-Golf (£26,325 after grant) and it will take the car quite briskly more than 100 miles before you're stuck needing a recharge.

For rather less (£24,965) you could go for the all-petrol Golf 1.4 TSI with automatic gearbox, more than enough performance and a likely mid-40s to the gallon.

Sorry for all the figures, but there are more. Run a Golf GTE as your company car and both your pocket and the firm's bottom line will be considerably boosted by the tax incentives the government uses to tempt more of us down the greener road.

A further incentive to look hard at a GTE, despite the high purchase price, is a list of standard kit that runs from a fine sat nav system, six-speed auto gearbox and adaptive cruise control to a DAB radio, automatic air conditioning and parking sensors front and rear.

The boot is smaller than you'll find in a conventional Golf (the big battery means the petrol tank has to be moved rearward) but it's still a decent size. There's also a space-saver spare wheel instead of the dreaded can of gloop, so you won't be stuck with a puncture when a rock takes out a sidewall.

By Matt Joy

It's one of the best-looking cars money can buy, and now you can have it with a manual gearbox. Jaguar's F-Type is the best sports car to come from the British brand in decades, but that hasn't prevented them from trying to make it better.

For the 2016 model year, there are some visual and mechanical tweaks but most significantly it is available with a manual gearbox for the first time.

Elsewhere, all F-Type models now have an electro-hydraulic power steering system like that of the XE saloon, and four-wheel-drive is now available on S and R versions of the F-Type, although the six-speed manual is two-wheel-drive only.

A beautiful car to look at, and unusually more so in Coupe than in Roadster form, the F-Type needed next to no changes in order to make it look good. So unless you choose the 4WD version which gets a re-profiled bonnet, you're getting the same svelte and modern shape.

The F-Type remains a strict two-seater and with much of the front end occupied by a selection of sizeable engines, so the space available is relatively modest. The centre console has been re-jigged to give more room for your left arm to change gear on the manual model which is a help, and although it's snug inside, even taller drivers can get comfortable.

Even the most sensitive of palms will struggle to feel the change to an electric power steering system; it's still super-sharp and responsive and maintains the F-Type's lively character.

Elements

The manual gearbox is definitely the choice for the enthusiast, as it shifts quickly and with great ease while the pedal positioning is good for those who like to heel-and-toe.

Sure, the monstrously powerful R model is a complete hoot, but the S is plenty fast; there's 375bhp on offer, enough to blast to 62mph in 5.5 seconds and all accompanied by an outrageous rasp from the exhaust that hardly seems legal.

Even the standard V6 model gets 18-inch alloy wheels and part-leather cabin, while this S model adds important stuff like the adaptive suspension, limited slip differential and the all-important active sports exhaust.

There's plenty of scope for going crazy with the options list but the S version has a lot of the crucial kit for a reasonable premium over the standard car.

The refreshing thing about the F-Type is that although it's a sports car, it's not an overtly masculine one. Jodie Kidd drives one, and just like the E-Type that went before it, the F-Type has a visual appeal that will attract young, old, male and female.

Of course there's a financial investment required, but barring that hurdle, it's a sports car with a very broad appeal.

BAGNALL

Beryl

(nee Rhodes)

The special years will never return, when we were altogether, but with the love that's in our hearts, you will walk with us forever.

Love always Brother Ben, Sisters Ann, Yvonne, Julie and Families.

BUSK

Rosemary

Passed away peacefully at home on July 7, 2015, aged 73.

The Funeral Service will take place on Thursday, July 23, at 10.30am, at St Aidens Church, Cannock, followed by Burial at Cannock Cemetery.

There will be a gathering at The Nest, John Street, Chadsmoor, from 11.30am onwards.

BUSK

Rosemary

Rose, Mom and Dad called you, but you were holding on so tight, your strength was gone, you could no longer fight.

You gave your hand to our Mom and Dad, and then you slowly drifted away.

Broken hearted Sister Barbara and Brother-in-Law Mike.

COOKE

Lynne Marie

Sadly passed away on July 1, 2015.

Beloved Wife of Leslie, devoted Mother and Grandmother to Andrew, Nicki, Alyx, Bethany, Ashleigh, Danny, and Amaleigh and Friend to everyone.

She filled our lives with so much love and she will always be in our hearts.

The Funeral Service will be at The Chadsmoor Methodist Church on Friday, July 17, at 12.00, followed by committal at Stafford Crematorium.

Family flowers only, donations if desired, to Cancer Research or Chadsmoor Methodist Church.

MORGAN

Carl

Passed away suddenly on June 6, 2015.

We never got a chance to say good-bye, for this reason all we can do is cry.

Our hearts will never be whole again, because we feel nothing but this pain.

MINCHER

Marjorie May

Wife

Thinking of you on your birthday Marge, but that is nothing new, for no day dawns and no night ends, without a thought of you

With an ache in my heart I whisper low, Happy Birthday Marge, I love and miss you so.

All my love

Eric.

X X X

Mom

Instead of a card we send our love, instead of a gift a prayer.

To the one we thought the world of, and miss beyond compare.

Chris, Aussie, Rob, Caroline, Emily and Grace.

NOTICE TO READERS
Please be aware that when purchasing a puppy there are some simple guidelines you can follow to ensure that you are not purchasing from a Puppy Farmer:
1. Try to ensure you visit the puppy whilst it is still with it's Mother.
2. Do not arrange to collect a puppy from any other location than that of the breeder.
3. Ensure that you are given any KC documentation, if pedigree. Whilst Midland News Association publications take great care to avoid publication of advertisements from Puppy Farmers we cannot accept any liability should readers purchase from this kind of establishment.

2. Amendment of clause 63 of the Bill to refer to the additional Environmental Information published in connection with the Bill in September 2014 and to the additional Environmental Information referred to in this notice below.
3. In connection with the construction of the works specified in 1 above, provision for the stopping up or diversion of the public footpaths and bridleways specified in Schedule 1 to this notice.
4. In connection with the construction of the works specified in 1 above, provision for the alteration or disturbance of the surface of the roads or streets specified in Schedule 2 to this notice.
5. The lands which may be acquired or used include the common land, park and open space set out in Schedule 3 to this notice and the canal tow paths and related land set out in Schedule 4 to this notice.

As from 17 July 2015, Plans and Sections, with a Book of Reference to those Plans, relating to the proposed Amendments will be available for public inspection at the offices and libraries referred to in Parts I and II of Schedule 5 to this Notice.

As from 17 July 2015, an Environmental Statement relating to the Amendments (ES) and Supplementary Environmental Statement (SES) together with a Non-Technical Summary (NTS) will also available for public inspection at each of the offices and libraries mentioned in Parts I and II of Schedule 5 to this notice and for inspection at the following offices: High Speed Two (HS2) Ltd, 5th floor, Sanctuary Buildings, 20 Great Smith Street, London SW1P 3BT, Tel: 020 7944 4908, Email: hs2enquiries@hs2.org.uk, www.gov.uk/hs2 and Eversheds LLP, 3-5 Melville Street, Edinburgh EH3 7PE.

As from 17 July 2015, copies of the proposed Amendments together with copies of the Bill will be available for public inspection at each of the offices and libraries mentioned in Parts I and II of Schedule 5 to this notice and for inspection at the following office: High Speed Two (HS2) Ltd, 5th floor, Sanctuary Buildings, 20 Great Smith Street, London SW1P 3BT, Tel: 020 7944 4908, Email: hs2enquiries@hs2.org.uk, www.gov.uk/hs2.

As from 17 July 2015, copies of the ES, SES and NTS and copies of the proposed Amendments together with copies of the Bill will also be available for sale from High Speed Two (HS2) Limited, 5th floor, Sanctuary Buildings, 20 Great Smith Street, London SW1P 3BT, Tel: 020 7944 4908, Email: hs2enquiries@hs2.org.uk, www.gov.uk/hs2.

The proposed Amendments and the Bill are available on the UK Parliament's website at www.parliament.uk. The Plans and Sections, ES, SES and NTS are available on the Department for Transport's website at www.gov.uk/transport and via HS2 Ltd's website at www.gov.uk/hs2.

Any person who wishes to make comments on the ES and SES should send them either by post to: FREEPOST HS2 AP2 CONSULTATION, or by email to: HS2PhaseOneAPjuly2015@dialoguebydesign.co.uk on or before 28 August 2015.

Please note: if you wish to send your response by recorded delivery or special delivery, please telephone the HS2 Ltd Community Relations Helpdesk on 0207 944 4908 to arrange this.

Anyone wishing to send comments should note that responses will be published on a publicly-accessible website in due course, but the names, addresses and signatures of individuals will not be published. As it is not possible for the substance of responses to be checked to ascertain whether they contain other personal data, you should not include information in your response that could identify you unless you are content for it to be made public.

If you do not want any of your response to be published you should clearly mark it as "Confidential" in the "subject" of the email or at the top of your letter. However please note the following two paragraphs.

If you want the information you provide to be treated as confidential, you should be aware that all information provided in response to this consultation, including personal information, may be subject to disclosure in accordance with access to information regimes (these are primarily the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), the Data Protection Act 1998 and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004). Under the FOIA, there is a statutory Code of Practice with which public authorities must comply and which deals, amongst other things, with confidentiality obligations. In view of this it would be helpful if you could explain in your response why you regard the information you have provided as confidential. If a request for disclosure of the information you provide is received full account will be taken of your explanation, but no assurance can be given that confidentiality can be maintained in all circumstances. An automatic confidentiality disclaimer generated by your IT system will not, of itself, be regarded as binding on the Department for Transport or HS2 Ltd.

Please note that all responses received, whether marked Confidential or not, will be passed on in full to the Houses of Parliament and their appointed Assessor, who will analyse the responses and make a report to Parliament. That report will not contain your personal data.

Submitting comments to the Secretary of State does not affect the entitlement of persons to make objections to the proposed Amendments by depositing a petition in the House of Commons referred to below.

The Bill has been introduced in the House of Commons as a public Bill. In the House of Commons, by the terms of the Order made by that House, objection to the proposed Amendments may be made by depositing a Petition against them in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than the end of the period of four weeks beginning with the day on which the first newspaper notice of the Amendments is published. Any such Petititon must therefore be deposited in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons not later than 2pm on Friday 14 August 2015.

In the House of Lords, objection to the Bill may be made by depositing a Petition against it in the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, and the latest date for depositing such a petition against the Bill may be subject to an Order made by that House or, if no Order is made, will be the tenth day after that on which the Bill receives its First reading in that House. In the latter case, if this date is a Sunday, Christmas Day or Bank Holiday, or a day on which the House does not sit, the final date for depositing may be postponed.

Information about the deposit of such Petitions may be obtained from either the Private Bill Office, House of Commons or the Office of the Clerk of the Parliaments, House of Lords, or from the undermentioned Parliamentary Agents.

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984
TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT ACT 2004

The Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 27/2015

1. Staffordshire County Council on 14 July 2015 made a Traffic Order under Sections 1, 2, 4, 32, 35, 45, 46, 47, 49, 53, 124 (1)(d) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, and the Traffic Management Act 2004 which:

(a) prevents you from parking your vehicle at any time on the following length of road:

Gladstone Road, Heath Hayes (both sides) – from a point approximately 32 metres south west of the junction with B4154 Hednesford Road where the existing restriction ends, in a south westerly direction for a distance of approximately 25 metres.

2. Exceptions permit waiting for the purposes of taking up and setting down passengers; loading or unloading goods; for vehicles displaying a Disabled Person's Badge; and where necessary in connection with the maintenance of roads and the supply of gas, electricity, telephones, sewerage services and water and in the service of the Environment Agency; for emergency service vehicles; for vehicles being used for the provision of a universal postal service by a universal service provider; for buses waiting at an authorised bus stop; for vehicles being used for floods defence works or land drainage works; and for so long as is reasonably necessary in connection with any wedding or funeral.
3. This Order amends the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009.
4. This Order is called the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 (Amendment) No. 27/2015.
5. This Order amends the Plan marked BO 240 incorporating waiting restrictions on the road specified in Article No. 1 above and which form part of the Staffordshire County Council (Cannock Chase) (Civil Enforcement of Parking) (Prohibition and Restriction of Waiting and Loading and Parking Places) (Conversion) Order 2009 and in substitution thereof.
6. Full details of the Order, together with a map showing the road involved, may be examined during normal office hours at the office of the Deputy Chief Executive & Director for Place; Highways, 2 Staffordshire Place, Tipping Street, Stafford, ST16 2DH and during normal opening hours at Heath Hayes Library, Hednesford Road, Heath Hayes, Cannock or via the internet at www.staffordshire.gov.uk/trafficregulationorders.
7. Any person who desires to question the validity of the Order or any provision contained in the Order on the grounds that it is not within the powers of the relevant sections of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of those sections or of Parts I, II, and III of Schedule 9 of the Act or any regulations made under the said Part III of Schedule 9 of the Act has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may, within six weeks of the date on which the Order was made, make an application for the purpose to the High Court.

8. The Order will come into operation on 21 July 2015

All change for Reedswood in link-up with Khalsa

FC Reedswood will be joining Sporting Khalsa FC and coming out under a new team name next season.

Reedswood have decided to join Sporting and change its name to Sporting Khalsa Women.

The women's team have hailed the welcoming and very supportive attitude they have had from Sporting and welcome the opportunity to make use of their excellent facilities that meet the level required to compete in the FAWPL.

Kelly Williams, founder and chairwoman of the club said: "We are very excited about joining Sporting Khalsa and believe that this is an important step for our club.

"We will benefit from a whole new range of facilities and will have better playing and training opportunities."

"Building a stronger foundation will help both the men and women's team to progress, and enable us to develop new players and volunteers.

"The new ground we will be playing on will be located in a less rural area, with good transport links, and we are hoping this will help us to attract committed players and volunteers.

"After being ranked the second best team in Staffordshire, we decided that is time to take a big step in being able to offer our players a better training and playing ground, with neatly superior facilities then the previous in use.

"Our supporters will also benefit from the location of the new ground, which has better transport links from both Walsall and Wolverhampton."

Morgan on course for golf success

Morgan Thomas, aged 14, from Burntwood

RISING golf star Morgan Thomas looks set for a bright future after an impressive display in the Women's Open Amateur Matchplay Championship.

And Morgan was only two shots away making the cut for the final rounds.

Morgan said: "I'm just grateful that I can play among players with such great talent.

"My game strategy for all competitions is visualising and giving myself confidence to shoot a good score.

"My target is always to just go out and try my best and put 110 per cent effort in.

"It's another learning curve to develop me as a player." Her performance has been hailed as a great achievement by her dad and Beau Desert professional Barrie Stephens.

Proud dad Gary said: "Morgan was buzzing being the youngest player there. A lot of the women playing have toured internationally.

"I'm over the moon she's played in the tournament. It will be a bit of experience for her, Morgan only turned 14 recently and will have played against seasoned players."

The young Turks set Jackett thinking

KENNY JACKETT admits Wolves' young stars have given him 'food for thought' as he fine-tunes his Championship squad ahead of the new season.

Strikers Donovan Wilson and Bright Enobakhare scored the winning goals in Wolves' two victories over FC Chambly and Paris FC, while attacking midfielder Connor Ronan showed glimpses of his burgeoning talent.

"Some of the younger players obviously give food for thought," he said. "Connor Ronan looks to be a very exciting player, so does Bright Enobakhare, so does Donovan Wilson.

"Early in the season there are good options and hopefully as those players progress I've got a good idea how they can fit into the first team."

Jackett has never been afraid to blood young academy players in Wolves' first XI, with the likes of Dominic Iorfa, Jack Price and Kortney Hause all playing key roles as the team narrowly missed out on promotion last season.

Had his thinking on whether the next crop can play a part changed since the start of Clairefontaine? Jackett said: "We want to give them chances."

Lewis legs it to win north of the border

This year the contest was held in Paisley, Glasgow where Lewis and Ben Askey from Chasetown didn't have the best of starts being placed near the back.

The ride was a 1.8kmtown centre circuit on narrow roads with fast descents, sweeping corners and a short sharp climb.

It was a course which would ensure packs would split and therefore guaranteed to produce some exciting technical racing.

Gridding was not done on national ranking points but on a lottery basis and the Askeys fared poorly with them both starting towards the back of the packs for their respective races.

Lewis was the first to race in the morning in the Under-14 category and just as the starting gun fired therain fell making conditions even trickier.

Chasing

The five continued to work well together and as a result they were gaining approximately 10 seconds every lap from the chasing pack.

By half way of this 55 minute race there was no real change and podium places looked guaranteed to be from this leading group as long as no crashes occurred.

It was only the last lap where the pace dropped as the riders realised it was going to be a bunch sprint for the finishing line.

Lewis rode it perfectly taking the inside line at the bottom corner making the attack to the slight uphill 200 metre climb to the finish.

No one could stay with his acceleration and Lewis from Wimblebury claimed a clean victory with Samuel Watson from Chevin Cycles 2nd and Dylan Westley from Albarosa Cycling club 3rd.

Lewis is now national champion in track and road as an Under-14 rider.

In addition to this he claimed the national cycle cross title at the beginning of the year. From having a nasty crash while leading the Isle of Man Youth Tour in May where he smashed his new bike and ended in an ambulance shows how things can turn around and a few misfortunes make you even hungrier for the wins.

Ben, aged 11 as a bottom year Under-12 rider had a strong ride too. Finlay Pickering and Max Poole both from Clifton RC made a strong break at the beginning of the race, this duo led from start to finish. It was then Joshua Giddings from Heanor Clarion CC and Billy Gilbey from VC Londres fighting for the bronze medal and then a pack of eight riders including Ben battling for the latter top 10 positions.

Etheridge is eager to get the No.1 spot

NEIL ETHERIDGE insists he is ready to be Walsall's No.1 goalkeeper, despite a lack of first team experience.

The talented 25-year-old became the Saddlers' second signing of the close season when he put pen to paper on a two-year deal earlier this month.

The Philippines international has won 44 caps but has played only 20 games at club level following loan spells at Bristol Rovers, Charlton and Crewe.

Now the promising shot-stopper has been charged with replacing last season's player of the year Richard O'Donnell following his move to Wigan."I'm absolutely ready to be first choice," he said.

"I've got experience at international level but it is different to playing regularly for your club."

Yacob pens a new deal with Albion

MIDFIELDER Claudio Yacob has handed Tony Pulis a major boost by penning a new two-year contract at Albion.

Albion had already activated a one-year option to keep him for next season but have now extended his contract for a further 12 months.

Director of football administration Richard Garlick said: "Everybody saw Claudio's contribution to the team, particularly over the second half of last season."

Cannock 1sts 261 all out Beacon 1sts 262 for 5 Beacon won by 5 wkts

CANNOCK travelled to league leaders Beacon for this top of the table clash. Batting first Cannock scored 261 all out with South African Wes Marshall scoring 152 , including six sixes in an over.

In reply Beacon were always up with the run rate and with wickets in hand reached their target with just nine balls remaining, Connor Shingler the pick of Cannock's bowlers with 3-54.

Cannock hosted Beacon and batting first posted 211 for 5 with Dan Wood scoring 62 , Jon Best 53 and Jamie Probert 47. A century partnership from Beacon's Callum Westwood (61) and Chris Townsend (112no) put Beacon in control before the match concluded with a tight finish that saw them reach their target with just three balls remaining. Cannock's Dan Wood was in the thick of it taking 4-47.

Cannock 3rds 105 for 6 Coseley 2nds 101 all out Cannock won by 4 wickets

Cannock made it three wins in three when they grabbed a four wicket victory over Coseley.

Winning the toss and fielding Cannock restricted Coseley to 101 with Jamie Fleet taking 4-24 and Ant Wood 3-13.

Cannock 4ths 147-2 Old Wulfs 4ths 144 Cannock won by 8 wickets

Bowling first Cannock bowled Old Wulfs out for 144 with Neil Boden taking 4-14 and Tom Hinks 2-41.

A century partnership which was built up between Mark Boden (42) and Ollie Clelland (46) more than helped Cannock on their way as they reached their target and earned the victory with 18 overs remaining

Captain Fleet refuses to give up on title fight

CANNOCK skipper Will Fleet is refusing to give up on his side's Staffordshire Clubs League title hopes but admits they face an uphill struggle.

"It is going to be tough but it is still do-able," he said. "Beacon have a good lead at present but still have to play some tough fixtures.

"We have to make sure if they do slip up we are in position to take advantage."

The loss at Beacon was almost overshadowed by Cannock's South African overseas star Wes Marshall hitting six sixes in an over. As incredible as the achievement was, Fleet admits he was not exactly full of wonderment when it was taking place.

"At that stage of the game, just eight overs in, I would have seriously lost my rag had he got out!" said the skipper.

"It was a superb feat but frustratingly we did not play well enough as a team to win the game."

French tour one of the best, says boss

KENNY Jackett says his time in France was the best pre-season tour of his career as Wolves ended their trip on a high with two wins out of two.

Donovan Wilson's late winner gave Wolves a 1-0 win over Paris FC, following on from their 3-2 success over FC Chambly two days earlier.

"It was an improvement on Wednesday's game, the players looked sharper and we had more cohesion," Jackett said.

"I felt it (4-3-1-2) suited everybody bar probably Ethan Ebanks-Landell who played just in front of the back four but he's a natural centre-back, and Declan Weeks who played at right-back. Other than that everybody was in position.

Competition

"With Jack Price, George Saville and Lee Evans if he didn't get a loan, it would suit a lot of my players playing that way. The competition and the creativity and the ability to play the ball and keep it and still retain two forwards was the biggest reason for it.

"It could play to our strengths more."

Jackett hailed the successful week in France – and said he was looking forward to facing English opposition again.

He added: "It's probably the best pre-season tour I've been on in terms of facilities, pitches, everything is here.

"It's been a good week – we've got to the end of the week with no injuries, one or two different systems and different combinations of players as I continue through pre-season and the build-up to Blackburn."

Cricket champions crowned

Cannock under-nines' Daniel Ranford, Jake Cope and Jamie Youll with the trophy

CANNOCK Cricket Club's under-nines have been crowned Staffordshire Youth Cricket League champions after a nail-biting finish to their tournament.

The youngsters were named winners on runs scored in a tense finish to the round-robin tournament on Sunday at Cannock's Chase Park, involving Wolverhampton, Aldridge and Moddershall. Cannock won their first two games against Moddershall and reigning champions Aldridge but narrowly lost their final game against Wolverhampton by three runs.

When runs scored were totalled up, hosts Cannock were named winners by eight runs. Moddershall were third and Aldridge fourth, again on runs scored. Cannock CC honorary secretary and under-nines manager Graham Machin said the club was thrilled with the victory.

"All the boys and girls who took part played really brilliantly and it bodes well for the future of the club," he said

"There were some excellent performances by players from all the teams involved."

Jackett is searching for a winning mentality

They won their first pre-season fixture 3-2 against French side FC Chambly on Wednesday.

"We have to make sure we finish off this tour strongly," Jackett said. "It's been a very hard working week, we've worked every day.

"I've been very pleased with the attitude of the players.

"I place emphasis on the importance of a result, I want to win, but obviously moving it around as much as you do it does endanger that by perhaps not always playing your strongest team. It's spoken about a lot, a winning mentality.

"It's a part of training, it's a part of everything we do, we have to have a mentality to win and work out a way to win."

Jackett, who has allowed Liam McAlinden to join Shrewsbury Town on loan until January, played down any interest in Cardiff City striker Adam le Fondre.

And he stressed that any player who did join the club would have to improve on who was already there.

Jackett said: "I think we have a strong squad and we'd like to add to it, definitely, but I don't think that changes too much.

"If you ask most managers at any stage or phase, they'd say they could do with one, two three players coming in – that's a constant assessment of form, injuries and fatigue."

Mystery as Bako drops off the radar

IT'S a transfer saga that has rumbled on all summer.

But it seems that no-one has any idea where Bakary Sako's future lies – or even where he is.

Jackett said: "There was rumours he was coming last week to Clairefontaine, but I didn't see him. I think we left him some tickets on the door

"So I don't know, you hear different things but I haven't read or seen or heard that he's signed for anybody. I presume he's still got options but I don't know what those options are.".

Sherwood is delighted as Delph to stay

BOSS Tim Sherwood has hailed Fabian Delph for his loyalty after the skipper turned down the chance to join Manchester City to stay with Villa.

It had been anticipated the 25-year-old England international would make an £8m switch to City, with the deal expected to be completed over the weekend.

"It's just an example of the measure of the guy really that he decided to stay.

Rob on hunt for Pearce in defence

STAFFORD'S Rob Hunt now has a Midlands title fight against Stourbridge's Steven Pearce in his sights – which will be his first defence of the belt.

He set up a rematch with Pearce after overcoming Sleaford's Amir Unsworth at the Chase Leisure Centre in Cannock on Saturday, writes Daniel Mole.

Unsworth came in 2lb 4oz over the championship limit of 10st 7lb, meaning Hunt's area welterweight crown wasn't on the line. Regardless, defeat wasn't an option for the champion.

The Sleaford man's danger shot was the overhand right and he caught Hunt in the second round. Hunt's legs appeared to stiffen but he recovered well and hit Unsworth with a number of stinging jabs.

He had opened a cut above Unsworth's left eye and had pinned his opponent against the ropes. It was another impressive display from Hunt, with former Midlands boss now his mandatory challenger.

The pair met back in 2013. Pearce was successful on that occasion, stopping Hunt with a vicious body shot in the fifth round.

Now, with him being lined up for the strap he held between March and May 2013, the duo are on a collision course to meet later this year.

Heath Hayes show off young talent as Pics grab win

Heath Hayes FC 1
Rushall Olympic FC 3

A young Heath Hayes side made up of some very talented lads gave Rushall as good as they got in this first pre-season friendly

Hayes took an early lead from a brilliant eight-pass move neatly finished off by Ryan Burns.

The first half ended 1-1 with the Rushall keeper being the busier

An even second half was in flow when Hayes were awarded a penalty for hand ball which saw the Olympic pull off a fantastic save down in his right hand corner

As the game was drawing to a close Olympic took the lead through Trevon and again through Dellaney

This was a fine performance on Saturday from a team with 10 players under 21, with the signs looking encouraging for the coming season.

Action from the AMCA motocross last year

CANNOCK Motorcycle Club will host the biggest weekend of their calendar with international riders competing in a packed weekend of motocross action later this month.

Two days of action on Saturday and Sunday July 25-26 sees some of the best racers from across Europe compete at Lower Drayton Farm, off the A449 Wolverhampton Road, Penkridge.

Saturday sees a series of group meeting races including intermediate juniors, juniors, seniors and experts taking to the dirt track. On Sunday, it is the turn of the international racers with the club hosting the sidecar international, ladies' international, inter-group team race and support race events throughout the day.

Admission for Saturday is £4 for adults, £2 children aged 12-16 and under 12s and OAPs free.

On Sunday, prices are £7 for adults, £3 for 12-16-year-olds with children and OAPs free.

PITMEN GET A TOUGH START

Walsall Wood 1 Hednesford Town 1

ROB Smith's side kicked off their pre-season campaign with a typically tough fixture against a Walsall Wood side that have been a continual thorn in their side over the years.

The first team-sheet of the summer bore no resemblance to the one that ended last season, with 14 new faces having arrived at Keys Park over the course of the last two months.

Nine of these started the game against Wood, with a further two more on the bench along with two trialists, as Smith continues to take a look at a couple more players.

Three levels of the football pyramid separated the teams, but as the officials said after the game you would have been hard pushed to differentiate who was who.

Wood took a first half lead playing some superb flowing football, changes in the second half saw the Pitmen grab an equaliser but at no time did Wood look overawed by their higher league opposition.

Cleverly

Town won a corner on the left after 12 minutes, the ball was only half cleared out to Ben Bailey 25 yards out, Aiton making a brave block on his first time drive.

As the new faces in the Town team continued to try and gel it was striker Kyle Perry who went closest to an equaliser as his low effort trickled wide of the post from 15 yards after taking a deflection.

The introduction of Ahmed Obeng, Tom France and Stan Mugisha through the early stages of the second half really started to make a difference as they caused the Wood defence problems every time they went forward.

Curtis Tilt equalises for the Pitmen against Walsall Wood in their pre-season opener

Although Obeng was forced off with a cut to his leg, following Luke Benbow down the tunnel after he went off at half-time, the Pitmen continued to press forward.

It was Wood who threatened first in the second half, four minutes in Taylor Boyce fired in a right wing cross, that was only half cleared, straight to debutant Josh O'Garra, his first time drive deflected wide.

Six minutes later a long, right wing throw into the Wood box caused absolute mayhem, but somehow the ball stayed out. An equaliser would eventually arrive and after 68 minutes Mugishda saw his shot saved only for defender Curtis Tilt to turn the ball home from inside the six-yard box after it was spilled by the home goalkeeper.

With 15 minutes remaining, Wood were reduced to 10 men when their second-half captain Harry Harris was dismissed for foul and abusive language towards the referee.

Walsall Wood: Kisiel, Deakin, Hayles, O'Garra, Wright, Black, Taylor-Boyce, Juxon, Taylor, Aiton, Currithers. Subs: Adams, Davies, Roberts, Harris, Butlin, Mellia, Guy, Price

Jacobs now ready to fight for his future

The 23-year-old was sent to Blackpool on loan towards the end of the campaign, making five appearances before being recalled to Molineux in April.

But head coach Kenny Jackett has opened the Wolves door again for Jacobs, stating that he and Tommy Rowe are in his thoughts for the left-wing slot made vacant by Bakary Sako's departure. And former Derby man Jacobs said he was up for the challenge of staking a claim.

"I've had a good honest chat with the manager, he knows where I stand and I know where he stands, which is the main thing I needed to find out," Jacobs said. "Obviously last year wasn't the sort of year I was looking for, with the fact I went out on loan I didn't really get the opportunity to play.

"The spell at Blackpool did me the world of good, I got a bit of momentum back in me and this year I'm looking to kick on."

Was he surprised to feature so little?

"To be fair sometimes things change in football and you go down a different route," he said. "The manager went with different players and it worked, we did really well last year. You can't go knocking on the manager's door and say 'I should be playing' if we're winning and doing well."

New blood crucial for easy victory

The match, which was played behind-closed-doors at St George's Park, in Burton,took place yesterday morning and was split into three 30-minute stages.

New recruits Jason Demetriou and Neil Etheridge made their first appearances in Saddlers shirts against the Academy side which is made up of released players under the age of 20.
